R. A. F. Makes Strong Counter Attacks On Germany As London Bombing Continues

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Oct. 18.—Relays of rescue squads who worked all night and day succeeded today in removing 175 of more than 200 men, women, and children trapped in the raid shelters of a huge tenement building leveled by German bombs.

As they continued their task in the hope of saving the remainder, German planes resumed their day attacks on London after one of the longest lulls since the air offensive began on a large scale nearly a fortnight ago.

Counter Blows On Germany

Powerful Royal Air Force counter-blows against the Nazi military machine meanwhile were made in reply to the mounting destruction in London.

The big tenement block in London was hit by a full "stick" or cluster of bombs, which caused several explosions simultaneously. Many of those taken out of the smoking debris by the tired workers were badly injured, and five were dead.

With the opening of the 229th raid alarm of the war, the drone of several formations of Nazi planes was audible to listeners in London. Crossing their path as they came were squadrons of British planes bound to attack German bases on the continent.

Tremendous Blast

From the southeast coast this morning came reports of tremendous explosions from the direction of the French "invasion coast" and it was believed that British bombers were once more raiding German-occupied ports.

The blasts, which occurred shortly after daybreak, were so heavy they shook the Kent coast of England.

Last night R. A. F. bombers also hammered the French coast ports with tons of explosives and British sources said more than 100 raids had struck the battered Nazi bases in the past two weeks.

Last night's raids on the French coast were carried out early in the

PA NEWC OBSERVES

During the excitement about the fire at the Fountain Inn Thursday afternoon, a pigeon was quite nonchalant on the building. In a corner, north of the center gable, facing the Diamond, the bird strutted back and forth, like a sentry on duty, unafraid of the danger and bustling surrounding it. Its home was probably at that spot.

Fire at the Fountain Inn hotel late Thursday afternoon tied up traffic downtown, because of the number of lines of hose laid across Washington street. Police officers were quickly on the job detouring traffic around the district. Some hundreds of spectators were drawn to the public square by the fire.

Teachers Name Irwin President

Mid-West Section P. S. E. A. In Session Here—Seven Counties Send Teachers

SENATOR TO MAKE ADDRESS TONIGHT

Dr. W. Bay Irwin of Kittanning was elected president of the mid-west section, Pennsylvania State Education Association, shortly before noon today in the Cathedral where the ninth annual convention of the association is being held. Like the other officers named, there was no opposition to the nomination of Dr. Irwin and he and his fellow officers were elected by the ballot of the secretary.

Other officers named by the teachers today are: First vice president, Theo W. Fullerton, Punxsutawney, Pa.; second vice president, Harrison A. Hartman of Sligo; secretary, Donald C. McGrew of Union township, Lawrence county; treasurer, Eric E. Garing of Aliquippa. Members of the executive committee, Margaret Frey of Butler and Donald Thompson of Greenville.

Open This Morning

The convention opened this morning with President Theo Fullerton presiding. Dr. John Jameson McIlvaine, pastor of First Presbyterian church, New Castle, offered the invocation.

H. R. Thompson of the Pennsylvania State Game Commission showed an interesting reel of motion pictures of wild life native to Pennsylvania and described the pictures as they were shown.

Harvey E. Gayman, executive secretary of the P. S. E. A. of Harrisburg greeted the teachers at the convention. He congratulated the officers of the local organization upon the excellence of the arrangements and the interest of the entire section.

Dora Maxwell, field representative of the Credit Union National Association, Madison, Wis., spoke on the work of the Credit Union. She described the work of the union and said that through it teachers had been able to save their money and that many loans were arranged through the union.

Prof. Edwin W. Pahlow

Prof. Edwin W. Pahlow of Ohio State university, who is the head of the department of history at the university, was the principal speaker at the morning session. His subject was "Our Share In Preparedness". He urged the necessity of a spiritual arming by the teachers in preparation for the world wide crisis.

The nomination of officers followed Prof. Pahlow. With but one nomination for each office the election was a perfunctory affair.

Departmental Groups

This afternoon the teachers meet in sectional groups. Some of the meetings will be held in the Ca-

LONDON, Oct. 18—German claims of a naval engagement at the entrance of the Bristol channel were labelled "extremely fanciful" today by informed British government quarters.

Fountain Inn Threatened In Fire Thursday

Spectacular Blaze Late Thursday Afternoon Extinguished With Minimum Loss

BLAZE STARTS BENEATH ROOF

Fire, which is believed to have started from a spark thrown off as welders were repairing a drum on the top of the elevator shaft at the Fountain Inn Hotel, set fire to the rafters under the roof of the structure on the Public Square, Thursday afternoon at 4:45 o'clock, causing damage of around $2,500, which is fully covered by insurance.

The fire, while of short duration was a spectacular one, and occurred just as the evening rush hour was getting under way. It was necessary to detour traffic around the Diamond until the blaze was extinguished, but many gathered to watch the firemen at work. Five fire companies took part in the battle, summoned by an alarm from Box 25.

The blaze worked its way under the roof from the top of the elevator shaft to the west wall of the structure, and for a time it appeared as if the building might be seriously damaged. City firemen, on the job in short order after the alarm was sounded, ran several lines of hose to the seat of the blaze and had it under control within a short time, although they remained at the scene for over two hours.

John Oberleitner, attached to No. 2 fire station at Park avenue, suffered a severly bruised hip, when he was hurled across Jefferson street, at 5:30 o'clock, when the full force of the pressure at the fire plug on

Long Range Guns Fire Over Channel

Report Firing Across Straits Of Dover By British And Nazi Batteries

(International News Service)

A SOUTHEASTERN ENGLISH COASTAL TOWN, Oct. 18—British and German long-range guns went into action on both sides of the straits of Dover today, firing at intervals from daybreak well into the afternoon.

The duel between the Titanic artillery pieces apparently resulted from atmospheric conditions over the straits which were unfavorable for aerial activity.

British guns took the initiative at daybreak and fired sporadically through the mist which hung over the sea like a blanket.

The Germans replied later, firing into the Dover area.

Half an hour later the German "Big Berthas" again began to fire, aiming at the same area. Thereafter the German guns spoke at intervals of first ten and then 20 minutes.

International News Service Staff Correspondent

ABOARD WILLKIE TRAIN, Enroute Springfield, Ill., Oct. 18—After having charged in St. Louis, Mo. that the re-election of President Roosevelt might mean the sending of American boys to fight in Europe's war, Wendell Willkie today turned his attention to Henry Wallace, Democratic vice presidential candidate and asserted that—by inference—the candidate has recorded the new deal as opposed to the free enterprise system.

Willkie's Warning

Willkie's war involvement warning was a surprise insert in a prepared speech which he delivered to an audience of 20,000 at St. Louis arena.

"We do not want to send our boys over there again" Willkie said. "If you elect me president, I will not send them over and by the same token I believe that if you re-elect the third term candidate they will be sent."

The Republican presidential candidate spoke on foreign affairs and in his speech charged that the new deal foreign policy was "neither wise nor effective" and that it had "contributed to war."

Today in a speech prepared for delivery at Jefferson City, Mo. Willkie reported:

Canadian Chief Executive Will Visit Roosevelt

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18—President Roosevelt today described the impending week-end visit of the Earl of Athlone, governor-general of Canada, to Hyde Park as a continuation of the interchange of visits between the heads of state of the two countries which he began back in 1933 and 1934.

The visit, he said, is and isn't official. It will be unofficial because of its Hyde Park setting and official only in that the president has never met the uncle of King George, who succeeded the late Lord Tweedsmuir.

German Destroyers Put To Flight In Air-Naval Battle

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service)

LONDON, Oct. 18.—Defeat of a fleet of four German destroyers in a running air-naval battle far off the southwest coast of England was announced by the admiralty and air ministry today.

The Nazi warships were put to flight by combined British naval and air units, and one of the destroyers may have been damaged.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—Men who dodged registration under the draft law Wednesday were given a last chance to register today as the drive to build an army of 1,395,000 men by next June was pushed to bulwark the United States against a future that "only God and Mr. Hitler knows".

First Call November 18

Developments in the drive were:

1. Secretary of War Stimson, saying "only God and Mr. Hitler knows" what conditions will be next year, announced that 800,000 of the 17,000,000 men who registered Wednesday would be called up for training by June, 1941—the first 30,000 of them Nov. 18.
2. Conscription officials planned to hold the national draft lottery in Washington sometime between Oct. 25 and Oct. 29.
3. Draft Director Clarence Dykstra announced that those who failed to register Wednesday would be given until the lottery to "sign up".
4. Draft officials prepared to send out 2,000,000 questionnaires a week to classify conscript registrants.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18—President Roosevelt prepared today to fulfill the pledge he made three months ago when he declared that—despite the campaign limitations placed on him by national defense exigencies—he would not fail to answer any political statements he considered unfounded.

In a 40-word message reflecting his obvious irritation over claims of Republican speakers, Mr. Roosevelt disclosed a last-minute decision to assume an active part in the culminating presidential campaign.

Pittsburgh Message

The message, read to a Pittsburgh audience last night by New York's Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia said:

"Will you extend my sincere greetigs to the people gathered to hear you tonight. There has been so much deliberate misrepresentation in this campaign that I am determined personally to correct this misrepresentation and give the people the true facts."

Hundreds Of Trucks Move On Burma Road

(International News Service)

LASHIO, Burma, Oct. 18.—Two hundred trucks, vanguard of 2,000 that will carry 100,000 tons of supplies to China's defense forces, were reported to have reached Kunming today after a speedy trip over the 700-mile Burma road, reopened by Britain in the face of threatened Japanese reprisals.

Drivers reported the journey was "without incident," although Japan had threatened to launch air bombing attacks from bases in French Indo-China.

The 200 trucks were led by a spearhead of 60 which carried only Japanese textiles and made a "test run" in view of the Japanese warnings. The remaining trucks carried gasoline and other war materials, some from the United States.

May Open Other Route

Reopening of the Burmo road led to reports that Britain also may open the Hong Kong munitions route into Nationalist China.

It was estimated that no less than 2,000 trucks would be in motion along the zig-zag, mountainous highway by tonight. Hundreds, bearing arms, munitions, airplane parts and other war implements, already have passed through Lashio.

In addition to this 100,000 tons of Britain To Increase Naval Attacks Upon Germany And Italy

(International News Service)

LONDON, Oct. 18—Intensified British naval attacks against Germany and Italy were foreseen today in the wake of an admiralty shakeup.

Alterations in the naval high command, like those made two weeks ago in the leadership of the Royal Air Force, were ordered by the war cabinet.

Vice-admiral John Tovey, 55 year old navy veteran and internationally known destroyer expert, was named commander-in-chief of the home fleet in place of 60 year old admiral Sir Charles N. Forbes.

Vice-Admiral Sir Geoffrey Blake, lord commissioner of the admiralty and assistant chief of the naval staff, was supplanted by Admiral Sir Henry H. Harwood.

See Harder Blows

Just as changes in the air arm brought intensified bombing attacks against Germany, authoritative circles indicated the new admiralty shakeup will see harder blows struck against the axis powers on the sea.

Vice-Admiral Tovey is an aggressive strategist and has spent almost his entire career with destroyers. This is considered significant in naval circles in view of the recent addition of 50 American over-age destroyers to the British fleet.

Tovey, who commanded the destroyer Onslow, is a veteran of the great Jutland engagement of 1916.

Admiral Forbes commanded the British fleet in the battles that accompanied the Norwegian hostilities last April.

The new lord commissioner of the admiralty, Admiral Harwood, is the hero of the famous engagement with the German pocket-battleship Admiral Graf Spee last December. He commanded the squadron of three British cruisers that caught and damaged the German warship off Uruguay.

Nearly 7,000 Die In Air Attacks During Month

By CHARLES A. SMITH

Urges Members Of V. F. W. Join In Peace Effort

Department Commander Of Veterans Of Foreign Wars Speaks To Local Posts

SAYS ALIEN ISMS HAVE NO PLACE HERE

Stating that the Veterans of Foreign Wars is just as strong for peace as at any time in its history, Department Commander Leo Moerschbacher of Phillipsburg urged members of the two local posts at a meeting in the rooms of Neshannock Post No. 315 on East Washington street, to enlist every man eligible for membership in an effort for defense.

He stated that now, as never before, the men who saw actual service at the battlefront, and who knew the full meaning of war, should be permitted to have a voice in the defense plans of the nation.

While the V. F. W. stands for peace, he stated that no peace which would in any way tend to lower the prestige of this great nation would be accepted from the dictator ruled nations of Europe.

Red Nation Of Isms

He also stated that the Veterans of Foreign Wars, which has always stood for 100 per cent Americanism and the riddance of this nation of all other isms imported from abroad should be the goal of the great organization of Uncle Sam's fighting men which he represented and the V. F. W. was uniting for "One Nation Indivisible, with liberty and Justice for All," the 1941 slogan of the Vets.

Commander Moerschbacher was accompanied by Al Ceres, of Harrisburg, chairman of the Public Re-

Armistice Day Is Proclaimed

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—President Roosevelt today proclaimed Nov. 11 as Armistice Day, asserting that "observance of the anniversary of the armistice of 1918 will direct our minds to the need of the world then as now not only for peace, but also for peace with understanding—not only for a cessation of hostilities but also for mutual respect in the intercourse between nations."

The presidential proclamation directed that the flag be displayed on all government buildings and called upon the people "to observe the day with appropriate ceremonies in schools and churches, or other suitable places."

Mr. Roosevelt expects to speak at the services at Arlington National cemetery on Armistice Day.

Britain Reveals Invasion Move On September 16

Neutral Sources Relate That Nazi's First Attempt Was Broken Up

LARGE NUMBER OF TROOPS INVOLVED

British Fliers Halted Attempt To Move Troops Across Channel, Is Claim

By ROBERT G. NIXON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Oct. 18.—Great Britain has defeated the first attempt by the German army to invade England, the air ministry divulged in a dramatic announcement today.

The attempt was made on Sept. 16, when a large number of crack German shock troops embarked from continental channel ports and headed for English shores, the air ministry disclosed.

Advised of the invasion move within a few minutes after it began, British Royal Air Force bombers roared across the channel and launched a terrific attack against the Nazi troop ships.

The ferocity of the R. A. F. assault was so great that the Germans were forced to abandon the attack.

Not Aware Of Move

British quarters indicated that the R. A. F. while being advised of important ship movements in the German held channel ports on that day, was not actually aware at the time that an invasion attempt was being made.

It was thought that the troop ships were probably being prepared for a possible invasion attempt.

Says Pacific Coast Safe From Attack

Fifteen Thousand Mile Inspection Trip In Pacific Made By Committee

NO CONCERN OVER SAFETY OF HAWAII

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—A house naval affairs subcommittee today reported, after a 15,000-mile inspection trip, that the Pacific coast is safe from serious enemy attack and that the navy is driving hard to establish its new outposts in the Pacific.

Rep. Darden (D) Va., headed the subcommittee, which included Reps. Anderson (R) Calif.; Jacobsen (D) Ia., and Jenks (R) N. H. It traveled by air and ship to California, Hawaii and to three tiny islands in the mid-Pacific which are being improved as "listening posts" for the navy.

No Alarm In Hawaii

Darden declared that no apprehension is felt in Hawaii over the tangled diplomatic situation between the United States and Japan. He added that "I've heard more talk about the Japanese situation here than on the trip."

"I have no concern about safety of the Pacific coast with the fleet we now have," he said. "I wouldn't say that an occasional raider might not get through, in event of war, and shell a city, but that is about all.

"It is doubtful whether an enemy cruiser could approach the coast close enough to attack it, with our air control. The best chance might be for a long-range submarine."

He cited the fact that no effort is being made to move families of army or navy officers from Hawaii, and the further fact that families are being taken there by newly-transferred officers, as indicative of the nonchalance existing in Hawaii over the Japanese situation.

"We feel that Hawaii is impregnable," said Darden.

Work Under Way

The subcommittee reported that dredging and other work is under way at Wake, Johnston and Palmyra islands in the Pacific beyond Hawaii. Airplanes will be stationed at these islands. Any enemy approaching Hawaii, he said, could be spotted 2,000 miles away.

The subcommittee did not go to Guam, the island within 2,000 miles of Japan which the navy wanted to fortify, but was vetoed by congress.

Darden said that he was opposed to fortifying Guam, although he added that it would be preferable as a fleet base to the Philippines. He estimated that it would cost $400,000,000 to $500,000,000 to fortify Guam.

Citing the vast expanse of the Pacific Ocean and the difficulty of waging war on it, Darden said that he would be opposed to a war with Japan "unless there was a very, very good reason."

the southeast corner of the Diamond caught him as the host was being disconnected. The fire had practically been extinguished, and Oberleitner was sent down to cut the line. He had turned the wrench several times and thought that the water was off. Other firemen who came to assist him, were completing the job of disconnecting the hose, when a boy standing nearby came too close and Oberleitner steped out to chase him to a safe point, when the connection was broken, loosing the full force of the 90-pound water pressure which caught him and hurled him across the street. The boy escaped.

Damage In Small Area

The actual fire damage was confined to an area about thirty feet square just under the roof, near the front of the building, but dense clouds of smoke which billowed from under the edges of the roof gave the apearance of a much more serious blaze.

In addition to the fire damage, water did extensive damage beneath the area affected by the blaze.

Speer Marousis, owner of the hotel, which was purchased by him during th past year expressed his appreciation for the slendid work done by firemen in bringing the blaze under control so quickly.

While the actual fire damage was not great, it was a severe blow to Mr. Marousis, who had just completed extensive remodeling and refurnishing. New beds and furniture had been installed in the 78 rooms of the hotel, along with new curtains and drapes, at a cost of around $5,000, Mr. Marousis states. It will be necessary to close the two upper floors of the four-story hotel building until the fire damage can be repaired, Mr. Marousis stated.

Insurance adjusters were on the job this morning, appraising the loss, which they estimated would run around $2,500, and a contractor was authorized to begin immediate repair of the damage.

HONGKONG ROUTE IS NOT REOPENED

don was understood to have ordered the route re-opened along with the Burma road as a further symbol of Great Britain's defiant reply to Japan's action in joining the Axis powers.

Whether London ordered the postponement at the last moment or whether the local authorities here decided upon it was not known.

However, neutral observers here felt that if the route had been reopened it would have prompted the young hot-headed Japanese militarists to blockade this British colony both from land and sea.

Japanese troops are known to be massed at Shumchum, a former tourist gambling village on the border of Chinese-British territory. It is considered certain that these troops would immediately attempt to isolate Hongkong from the interior of China if the Hongkong route was re-opened.

In previously announcing reopening of the route, the British authorities said the ban would be lifted on the shipment of gasoline and other raw materials but that the ban against the shipment of arms and munitions would remain in force.

evening. Later, an official announcement said today, all R. A. F. bombers operations were cancelled owing to unfavorable weather conditions.

Bomb 52 Nazi Centers

In addition it was asserted that 52 war centers in Germany alone had been bombed between Oct. 5 and 15, particularly oil depots, seaports and railways.

The newest British attacks on Boulogne, Cherbourg, Calais and Dunkerque followed a terrific daylight raid yesterday on the German-occupied French port of Brest. There, according to returning pilots, a huge power station was ruined and docks, freight sheds and shipping were blasted.

Last night's German raid on London was the longest of the war, but its effects were considerably less than during some previous raids as a result of intense anti-aircraft barrages.

The all-clear finally sounded shortly before 7 a. m. After a prolonged lull, terminating London's 228th alarm of the war. It was the capital's 41st consecutive night attack.

(Editor's note A Berlin announcement said squadrons from three German flying corps carried out a night mass attack on London. It was pointed out, however, that these squadrons did not necessarily comprise all the planes belonging to the three corps and that only "several hundred planes" participated in the raid.)

Even before the all-clear was given thousands of workers jammed buses and trains on their way to work ignoring occasional bursts of anti-aircraft fire and airplanes droning overhead through the mist.

During the night the raiders came over the city in small groups and attempted to penetrate the defenses at many points. For the most part, however, they were frustrated by anti-aircraft fire.

Bombs were scattered over wide areas on the outskirts of London and British sources charged the Germans were deliberately resorting to a campaign of terrorization.

Meanwhile, Lashio instituted air raid precautions against possible Japanese bombing attacks. Opening of the road marked the end of Britain's policy of appeasement in the Far East.

Deaths of the Day

Robert G. Adams

Following a stroke, Robert G. Adams, aged 84, of Portersville, passed away at his home this morning at 4 o'clock. He was a lifelong resident of Butler county.

For many years Mr. Adams was foreman of the Muddy Creek oil field, but retired several years ago. He was a member of the Portersville Presbyterian church.

a depression. That is like telling a man who is lying flat on his back that if he isn't careful he may fall down.

"The vice presidential candidate made his prediction in a speech yesterday at Wheeling, W. Va.

"This is what he said:

"If the Republicans are in power when peace comes, they will cry back to normalcy, up with free enterprise. Take the government out of business. Cut down on spending."

"Now that certainly is a terrible picture. Apparently the vice-presidential candidate of the new deal really believes that the American people are against free enterprise. He tries to frighten them by telling them that the Republican party is in favor of free enterprise. By inference he says that the new deal is against it.

Take Your Choice

"Well, that's exactly what we have been saying all along. It is good of Mr. Wallace to give us this confirmation. We are perfectly willing to have the American people make their choice on that basis.

"The Republican party is pledged to encourage enterprise because we know that it is only by the expansion of enterprise that he will get jobs.

"Under the new deal private capital has been scared out of productive enterprise and yet Mr. Wallace tries to tell us that an election of an administration which believes in private enterprise and believes in jobs will reduce this already vanishishing flow of productive capital.

"Whom does he think he is fooling?"

Route To Game Outlined Today

The Motor Association today announced the following route to the town of Washington, Pa., which is 73 miles from New Castle. Route 18 can be followed the entire way.

The following towns will be along the route: Moravia, Homewood, Beaver Falls, New Brighton, Monaca, McCleary, Service, Harshville, Frankford Springs, Florence, Burgettstown, Atlasville and Washington. The highway is clear all the way, no detours being established.

America's travel industry this year will reach a new high of approximately $6,000,000,000 as compared with $5,000,000,000 last year.

NOVEMBER 18 IS DATE ANNOUNCED FOR FIRST DRAFT

affirmed its estimate that more than 17,000,000 men of draft age (21 to 36) had registered Wednesday, topping the expected registration of 16,500,000 by approximately half a million.

6. The last of the local draft boards were being named so that the numbers of registrants could be posted within the next few days, some of them today, possibly.

Order of Calls

Stimson, in announcing 800,000 draftees would be called up soon, set the following timetable: Nov. 18—30,000 men; Dec. 2—60,000; Jan. 3—90,000; Jan. 15—90,000; Feb. 10—160,000; March 5—200,000; June 15—200,000.

The war secretary also announced two new armored divisions would be formed and that 126,000 additional national guardsmen would be called up between Jan. 3 and 19. Thus the United States will have an army of 1,395,000 under training next June.

Stimson, cracking the whiplash of the draft at Germany, said:

"I can not prophesy any farther than that. I have been rather bold to go that far, for only God and Mr. Hitler knows what conditions will be then."

Draft Director Dykstra also took a potshot at the Nazis yesterday a short time after he was sworn into office.

Neither Soft Nor Supine

Dykstra said that Wednesday's registration proved that the United States as a democracy was neither soft nor supine. Those who think so may be disappointed, he warned. To show that the draft was not a punitive campaign, but a symbol of democracy in action, Dykstra ordered the reprieve for those who failed to register Wednesday. He sent the following wire to draft direrctors in all states:

"Some persons unable to register Wednesday. Until national lottery persons who voluntarily present themselves for registration should not be treated as delinquents."

Dykstra also drove for holding of the national lottery within the next 10 days to determine which conscripts will be called up first. However, it was believed that the 30,000 men to be mustered Nov. 18 could be made up entirely of volunteers.

Even if actual conscription is necessary it would mean that only four or five men would be called up by each of the 6,500 local boards thruout the country. In other words, the present chance of a conscript being called up on Nov. 18 is about one in 550.

Three States Lag

Local draft boards have been named in all but three states—Georgia, Florida and North Dakota. Boards in some states already are meeting to shuffle and number the cards or registrations in preparation for the lottery. After the lottery, the boards will send out questionnaires at the rate of 50 a day, or about 2,000,000 a week for the entire country. Thus, classification of all men who register may be completed within eight or nine weeks after the lottery. The questionnaires will be sent to men in the order their numbers are drawn in the lottery.

The army's announcement that 800,000 would be called up by next June disclosed that there was a lag in actual mobilization. In September the army announced that 75,000 would be called up Oct 15; 55,000 Nov. 1; 65,000 Nov. 15; 100,000 Dec. 1; 98,000 late in December, and 400,000 next April.

Two things caused the delay. Congress did not pass the conscription bill until mid-September and there is a critical shortage of housing in the army.

PRESIDENT WILL MAKE SPEECHES

announcement that Mr. Roosevelt would make four major speeches before the November 5 election, the presidential statement was followed by an assertion by LaGuardia—prime campaigner for the executive's re-election — that hereafter 'Mr Willkie will be talking to some one other than himself."

"Believing me," said LaGuardia, "we'll get the true facts—in keeping with the dignity of the president of the United States."

And so Mr. Roosevelt, who always likes to win a fight once he is in it, mapped out a last-minute drive to wrest the 134 electoral votes of New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Massachusetts and Connecticut from his Reublican opponent, Wendell Willkie.

The president will appear between now and election day in such key eastern cities as New York, Rochester, Buffalo, Philadelphia, Cleveland, Springfield, Mass., and Hartford, New Haven, Bridgeport and Waterbury, Conn.

There was a distinct possibility that Mr. Roosevelt also would invade Baltimore to bid personally for Maryland's eight electoral votes.

The four major speeches, unquestionally labeled as "political" in nature, will take him into Philadelphia, New York City, either Baltimore or Washington, D. C., and Cleveland.

Standard time was adopted in the United States in 1883 on the initiative of the American Railway Association.

BRITAIN REVEALS INVASION MOVE ON SEPTEMBER 16

Nevertheless, the R. A. F. bombers rained down tons of high explosives on the ships and also swooped low to sweep their decks with a withering hail of machine-gun fire.

The British attack was so fierce that the German aramada was broken up and those ships which had started out were forced to flee back to port.

Neutral Sources Give Facts

The British flyers thought at the time it was just part of another day's work. Now, according to the air ministry announcement, information has been received from a neutral source disclosing that German troops had actually been embarked on those ships for an invasion of England but the plans were not carried out because of the sustained offensive by the R. A. F.

The information received from the neutral source did not mention whether the Germans had suffered any heavy casualties at that time.

However, it was recalled that about the time this attempt was made, British air ministry announcements frequently referred to heavy damage inflicted on barges and other ship concentrations in the German held channel ports by the R. A. F.

Th actual number of German troops involved in this first invasion attempt is not known, but it was thought that it must have been a large number.

Would Take 100,000

Miliary observers have estimated that it would take at least 100,000 troops to effect a successful landing on the English shores. However, it was considered doubtful that anything like this number had actually embarked on the attempt repulsed so swiftly by the R. A. F.

It was considered more likely that the German force may have been something in the nature of a "miniature" invasion army designed to test the resistance of the British.

Disclosure that the R. A. F. had so sucessfully defeated the first attempt of Hitler's mighty German army to repeat William the Conqueror's invasion of England was received with great joy here.

It was hoped that this taste of what was in store for any invasion attempt may have been repsonsible for Hitler's reported decision to abandon the plans for an invasion of England this winter, and to turn his attention to the east.

thedral, some in the senior high school and others in the Washington junior high school. The various subjects of the school curriculum are segregated into sections with each group discussing the problems of its particular field.

A number of luncheon meetings were held at noon. Some of them were in The Castleton hotel and others in various tea rooms and churches. At 5:30 the Dean of Women section of the association holds a dinner meeting in The Castleton.

Seven Counties

Seven counties are represented at the convention today and the total teachers who are here is said to be over 3000. Tonight's program includes a collection of band numbers with musicians from all over the section taking part in a joint band. Various directors will lead the band. The speaker of the evening is U. S. Senator Josh Lee of Oklahoma, who is a humorist, and the convention closes with a reception and dance in the ballroom of the Cathedral.

One well known figure is missing from the convention today Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of the New Castle schools. Dr. Green is confined to his home with an infection and is unable to attend.

SHORT IN WIRING SUMMONS FIREMEN

B. Truck company from Central station was called to the store and apartment building at 6:30 East Washington street at 11:15 o'clock, Thursday night, when a short in the wiring, caused a spark where a gas pipe came in contact with a metal ceiling over the bake shop of D. E. Rowe. Firemen had to take up several boards in the floor of the apartment above occupied by the William Logan family.

"FRENCH CATHEDRALS" WOMEN'S CLUB TOPIC

Indiscriminate destruction of churches and other places of worship in lands suffering invasion has already wiped out many religious landmarks. Pilgrimages made to some of these shrines will be recalled for members of the Woman's club, Monday, October 21, at 2:30, in the Highland Presbyterian church. "The Charm of the French Cathedrals" will be the art topic for the day's lecture by Professor Clarence Ward, which will be illustrated with colored slides. Professor Ward of the History and Appreciation of Art Department of Oberlin college, is director of its art museum. As an authority in his field he has received recognition at Princeton university.

Hostesses for the day will be Mrs. E. V. Martin and Mrs. E. F. Henderson.

ART CLUB HAS GUEST SPEAKER

Members of the Art club motored to Zelienople Thursday afternoon for luncheon and enjoyed hearing L. E. Tfaltzgrath, an interior decorator, give an instructive talk on "Coordination of Color and Fabric". Many samples were displayed, and following the talk, a discussion ensued.

Mrs. Roy Conway, the new president, presided at the business session and the program was in charge of Mrs. E. V. Martin.

On November 21 the group will meet at the Y. W. C. A.

E. T. W. KENSINGTON MEETING THURSDAY

Mrs. Thomas Lindsey delightfully entertained members of the E. T. W. Kensington Thursday afternoon at a 1 o'clock luncheon, with Mrs. John Pontius sharing as a special guest.

Following a delicious dinner served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. James Gilfillan, a business meeting was conducted with plans being made for a dinner at the Castleton hotel on October 31, with husbands as guests.

Afternoon hours were enjoyed in needlework and chat.

BRAHMS CHORUS HOLDS MASKED PARTY EVENT

A delightful October event for members of the Brahms Chorus, was the masquerade party which took place Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Harry Zimmerman on the Ellwood-New Castle road.

The hours were kept lively with "Guessing Who's Who" during the early period, and after unmasking, a series of games and contests held sway. Especially interesting, was the scavenger hunt, staged in the living room.

Lunch was served at the close by Mrs. Zimmerman, and her co-hostesses which composed the committee in charge: Mrs. Mary Lewis, Mrs. Ruth Gibson and Miss Virginia Roberts.

EVENING SECTION GOES TO ROCHESTER

Associates of the Evening Section of the Woman's Club motored to Rochester Thursday evening to attend the Beaver County Federation meeting which was especially for junior club women.

Mrs. Earl Magee, president of the state federation, gave a few fitting remarks, and the main address of the evening was given by Mrs. Frederick Beggs, chairman of international relations for the national federation. She told of her good will tour to South America and gave many new ideas on that country. Then Peggy Watson closed with a musical recital which was well received.

On November 7, Mrs. William McCombs will entertain the group in her home on the Mt. Jackson road with Judge Thomas Dickey being the principal speaker of the evening.

Couple Is Honored

Honoring Mrs. Melvin Keller, nee Mary Alice Williams, a lovely shower was given Saturday evening in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Williams, of Castlewood.

The hours were passed informally and the honoree received many lovely gifts for her new home.

Mr. and Mrs. Keller are living in Pittsburgh, where the former is employed in the plumbing business.

Section G, July, Reading by Miss Claribel Cope; September, This group sang "School Days"; November, reading by Miss Betty Cope; December, Christmas song by Miss Pattie Bryan.

After the program, lunch was served at tables beautifully decorated, representing the various months and seasons.

The social committee composed Mrs. Maude Fisher, chairlady, Mrs. Blanche Boston, Mrs. Mabel Wright, Mrs. Alice Wilson, Mrs. Jennie Shaffer, Mrs. Edna Lutz, Mrs. Margaret Leslie, Mrs. Clara Lutz.

MARTHA McCLUSKEY FETED AT SHOWER

Mrs. Gus Holfelter entertained a number of guests, including associates of the F. S. club, in her residence at New Wilmington Thursday evening. The event was a prenuptial shower, honoring Miss Martha McCluskey, who will become the bride of Edward Houk on Thanksgiving Day.

Contests and music were pastimes enjoyed, and refreshments were served at a table, centered with a miniature bridal party. Mrs. Florence Cummins and Anne Caldwell aided.

Many lovely gifts, of a miscellaneous nature, were presented to the honoree.

MAHONING BOOK CLUB AT RANEY RESIDENCE

Associates of the Mahoning Book club gathered Thursday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. J. C. Raney on West Cherry street, where they enjoyed a delicious buffet luncheon.

Serving was held at 1:30 o'clock, by the hostess, and she was aided by Mrs. George Cook, who poured.

An interesting informal period followed, on the discussion of current events. Activity plans for the coming months were outlined by the club members.

Thursday, October 31, is the date for the next session to be held with Mrs. Mayme Arthurholt, of West Cherry street.

G. A. G. Club

G. A. G. club members gathered Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Francis Bartley, East Washington street.

Contests were featured and winners were Mrs. Ralph Schetrom and Mrs. George Coryea. Refreshments were served.

October 31, members will meet with Mrs. George Coryea, Highland avenue.

Federation Juniors Have Style Show And Bridge

Since the sad fall of France, and with Paris in the eclipse, their designs are "fashion future" and Americans will put forth their talents this season, giving real opportunity to gown the glorified American girl in the true American Way.—This was ever so true in the fashion trends displayed Thursday evening in the Strouss-Hirshberg Store when the Federation Juniors, sponsored a style show and bridge, which attracted a throng of guests numbering several hundred.

Flatterers that feature American design are beautiful, and wearable, again depicting the type of clothes that the American women like best, for sports, afternoon teas, club meetings, that informal dinner party, football games and for formal wear.

The models as they passed the interested crowds on the mezzanine floor wearing fashions for "every hour of the day" were enthusiastically received and their choice of garment, wholly approved and accepted. About 400 were present.

Included in the "Autumn Fashions for 1940" were sportswear consisting of Glen Plaid jacket, as well as smooth fitting two-piece suits of corduroy or gabardine for office and classroom as well as corduroy slacks tailored, long sleeve shirts of wool jersey or crepe and pleated skirts favored.

Accessories are important, with plenty of color in handbags which will be large, costume jewelry bringing to the front bracelets and pearls and pins in metals and plastics are all fashion news.

Gloves will be wrist length, and American designers are doing wonders in replacing the imported hand wear. Hose will blend with costumes. Sports coats will feature plaids and the stand-by camel hair, with a "zip-in-zip-out" lining is sensational. The "background coat" to be worn in many ways is big news, and hats in soaring styles, swooping with feathers and birds and flowers and in all shapes were shown.

Evening attire in sleek materials and taffetas as well, with an accent on brilliants, were exquisite. Fur coats, in swagger models with small collars and sleeves of the bell or balloon type and squared shoulders, are smart.

Little youngsters clothes were also shown and for the "generation of tomorrow those modeling were Mary Ida Aley, Jean Lyons, Marilyn Bilzi, Carolyn Caddock, Donna Jean Allen, Marstin Wieldon and Rosemary Knorr.

Others modeling were Mrs. Ann Whalen, Mrs. Wanda McBride, Mrs. Carl Hart, Mrs. Margaret Shaffer, Mrs. Marjorie Marquis, Miss Grace Short, Miss Elizabeth Eroe, Mrs. Isabel Vonderau and Miss Jane Wood.

The door prize was carried off by Miss Helen McCracken.

Wilfred R. Short, merchandise manager, announced each model, and explained in detail the intriguing features, noted in the fashions she was wearing. He was remembered with a gift from the Federation Juniors at the close of the evening for the fine manner in which he carried out his part of the program.

Those on the committee in charge were the following Junior Federation members: Mrs. Louis Hazen, Mrs. Robert Hoose, Mrs. Francis Baldauf, Mrs. Robert Weingartner, Miss Martha Jo McGoun, Mrs. Robert McBurney and Miss Dorothy Blim.

Cards were in play afterwards, with a prize for each table.

STEELE-MYERS WEDDING EVENT

In the parsonage of the Slippery Rock Presbyterian church, Thursday morning, Miss Naomi Steele, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Steele of R. D. 1, became the bride of Russell Myers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Myers, of Castlewood.

The vows were exchanged at 10 o'clock before members of the immediate families with Rev. Thomas Berger officiating with the single ring ceremony.

The bride was attractively attired in a soldier blue ensemble trimmed with seed pearls, with black accessories, and wore a shoulder corsage of talisman roses.

Rose Green, as her maid of honor, wore a catauba frock with blue accessories and a corsage of tea roses.

Robert Houk served the groom as best man.

Immediately following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at a suburban tea room for immediate families.

Later in the day the couple left for a southern wedding trip, and after October 21, will be at home with the groom's parents at Castlewood.

The bride graduated from the Ellwood City High School and is employed in the millinery department at Fisher Brothers. Mr. Myers is affiliated with the Mathews Conveyor Company at Ellwood City.

AFTERNOON CLUB MOTORS TO BOYER

Thursday Afternoon Bridge club members motored to Boyer, Pa., for their regular meeting in the home of Mrs. Clifford Pratt, the affair being in the form of a luncheon.

Promptly at noon the guests were served around a prettily appointed table where they enjoyed a delicious menu served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Mitchell, the latter being a special guest. At a later hour, the group enjoyed several tables of bridge with high score awards going to Mrs. Arthur Heizman, who also captured the galloper and Mrs. Louis Salca. Mrs. Mitchell of Boyer, Pa., was given a lovely guest prize from the hostess.

The next regular meeting of the group will be in two weeks with Mrs. Ralph Fischer of Edison avenue as hostess.

BESSEMER CLUB MEETING CHANGED

The October meeting of the Bessemer's Woman club, scheduled for October 29, has been changed to Tuesday evening, October 22, at 8 o'clock, in the Bessemer Presbyterian church.

Mrs. Wayne Davis, chairman of the civic committee has arranged the evening's program. Miss Margaret Bodenstein, executive secretary of the Lawrence county Red Cross, will be the guest speaker, and will emphasize the needs of this worthy organization.

C. D. Montgomery, local burgess, will talk on subjects pertaining to the civic welfare of the community. Music will be provided by the music committee, with Mrs. R. R. Hillard in charge.

N. H. G. Club

N. H. G. club members met Thursday evening in the residence of Miss Helen Brook, Adams street.

Contests were enjoyed and winners were Nettie Irene Mann, Mrs. Jean Allen and Mrs. Velma McMillen, the latter receiving the traveling trophy.

Special guests were Alma Lutz and Mrs. Clara Kerr, both receiving guest tokens. Refreshments were served.

November 7, members will meet with Evelyn Cunningham, Monroe street.

Choir Meeting

Members of the Central Christian church choir, gathered in the home of William Stroble, of Winslow avenue, Thursday evening.

President Clarence Frey was in charge, and the religious period was in charge of David Lewis.

A delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Troble, assisted by Cecelia and Lois Stroble.

The next meeting will be held with Mrs. William Dolling, of Lyndal street, on November 21.

V. F. W. AUXILIARY HAS EVENING PARTY

The Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary, Harry L. McBride Post, No. 522 held a card party and social evening, Thursday evening in the American Legion home for members and friends.

Prizes for cards were awarded to Mrs. Lillian Falls and Naomi Cage with contest prizes going to Alberta Fredericks and Mrs. Nick Speed. Following, the group enjoyed a delicious repast served by a capable committee. Those responsible for the success of the affair include Mrs. Irene Cage, chairlady: Mrs. Morley Sweet, Jr., Elsie Fredericks, and Mrs. Ira Miller.

The next regular meeting will be Thursday, November 7, in the Legion home, with Mrs. Lillian Falls, in charge.

JEWISH WOMEN PLAN LEGISLATIVE PROGRAM

A legislative program of wide importance is to be the consideration of members of the New Castle Section of the National Council of Jewish Women in the Cosmo Club, Monday, October 21, at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Lois F. Kohn, chairman, announces that a comparison of presidential issues and party platforms will be the theme.

Roger W. Rowland, secretary of Properties and Supplies in the James' administration at Harrisburg will present the position of the Republican party. Clarence A. Patterson, attorney, prominent in the affairs of the Democratic party, will give the views of his party.

Because of the timeliness of the subject, members are urged to invite their husbands and other guests to this meeting. Officers of the club will serve on the receiving committee.

Jolly Ten Club

Members of the Jolly Ten club were received Thursday for luncheon at the home of Mrs. Russell Connors in Youngstown with Mrs. Frank McArthur assisting the hostess in serving.

Afternoon hours were passed in fancywork and cards and plans were made to meet with Mrs. Walter Smith in her home on the Harbor road on November 14.

GROUP FROM CITY GOING TO SHARON

Representatives of New Castle's Daughters of Union Veterans, Tent 20, will go to Sharon Saturday morning to attend an all day convention of the Daughters in District One.

The convention being held in the Moose Temple, in Sharon, will begin at 9 a. m. Dinner will be served at noon in the Christian church. Mrs. Anna Miller, department president, will preside at the sessions.

M. A. O. Kensington

M. A. O. Kensington club members were received Thursday afternoon in the residence of Mrs. Williard Kimmell, Highland avenue. Mrs. Harry Smith and Mrs. Mary Kimmell, the latter of Ellwood City, were special guests.

BRITAIN STICKS TO INDIVIDUALISM

SURELY the show the Londoner is currently making in fortitude under that bomb devastation must be imbedding itself in the imagination of mankind, including even that of the totalitarian doctrines, to wit, the idea that a deep degree of individualism can be a wholly admirable thing.

It is said that the thought which most exasperates the Londoner these days is not that envisaging an audacious adventurer invading England so much as it is a savage emotional turn in the British bosom against trespass.

That distinction between invasion and trespass discloses the depths of English individualism and its peculiarly intimate relation to the English conception of liberty. This explains why in the midst of all these world-wide revolutionizing changes in social forms, in which the individual seems to be less and less separable from his fellows and more and more part of a collective unit, the Englishman continues to consider his home his castle and to rate indignantly uninvited entrance to it as rank intrusion.

GOVERNMENT BY EMERGENCY

Resigning from the Democratic state central committee in protest against Roosevelt's third term venture, Pierce Butler, Jr., of St. Paul, son of the late associate justice of the United States supreme court and a lifelong Democrat, wrote Chairman Joseph Noonan:

> "From the time Augustus Caesar transformed the Roman republic into a hereditary despotism, down to Hitler and Mussolini, representative governments have fallen by granting extensions of power on the grounds of emergency. The emergencies and the power then became perpetual."

Whoever regards the third term issue as "political" and unimportant fails to read the clear lesson of history. In these times when one-man governments are the world's bane, the importance of rejecting such government for ourselves grows in direct ratio to the crisis which is cited as the excuse for it.—Minneapolis Star-Journal.

SANE CELEBRATIONS

Hallowe'en is approaching. Some of us may dread the fact, for hallowe'en activity on the part of youngsters and some not so young has become something more than a nuisance. We now give thought to an antidote for the destructive outbursts of hallowe'en privileges, and which are indulged in for weeks rather than for a night or two? Suggestions might be found in an account of what some other communities are doing to make hallowe'en a "safe and sane" affair.

A party-for-the-town has replaced hallowe'en destruction in many communities which used to wake up on November 1 with broken windows and burned property. While the municipal parties usually take the form of parades and pageants, new features are reported by the Williamsport Sun as follows:

Centralia, Ill., one of the pioneers in community parties, last year gave its big parade a central theme of historical events.

Dubuque, Ia., occupied youngsters the week before the community party by having them work at social centers on their costumes for the parade.

Berwyn, Ill., makes a whole week's festival out of hallowe'en. A window soaping competition was a feature of last year's festival, which also included guessing contests sponsored by merchants in window displays, a costume parade and a big bonfire on hallowe'en night.

Dalton, Mass., has found a "feast of lanterns" contest successful entertainment for both adults and children throughout the county.

Birmingham, Mich., sponsors a community celebration featuring a free barbecue followed by a community sing, free movies for the young, and a dance for the older boys and girls.

Chico, Calif., schedules a football game and boxing exhibition for the high school youngsters; while the younger children go to parties given by the churches.

Columbia, Mo., holds a "barnwarming" party on hallowe'en night, preceeded by an "invitation night" a few days before, when boys drive through the town in horse-drawn wagons to invite their guests.

In Minneapolis, which has long sponsored community hallowe'en, Citizens' Committee sends notes to parents through the school children, reminding them it would be an opportune time to hold a private party. A "Big Brother" committee takes charge of younger boys on hallowe'en night, escorting them to the movies or to various parties in the city, some of which are publicly sponsored.

Keokuk, Ia., rewards good behavior of its young citizens on Fourth of July and hallowe'en with a two-day Christmas party.

Folks have been fighting for some time. British workmen digging a bomb shelter unearthed a fort two thousand years old.

Under a new constitution Cuba will begin breaking up large sugar estates into smaller holdings. That will eliminate sugar surpluses.

Paris does not let a little thing like losing a war interfere with fashion. It has announced that skirts will be lowered to within twelve inches of the floor.

A new president of Mexico will be inaugurated in December; the new President of the United States in January. But up here it will not be necessary to call out the troops for the ceremony.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

LEARNING BY ROTE HAS ADVANTAGES

We hear and read so much against memorizing at school that we might suppose it a sin for a pupil to learn anything by heart. Some teachers, indeed, fear they might be scolded by their bosses if they were ever caught having their children learn anything by rote.

Although the child might easily slip through the modern primary grades without having to commit anything to memory with a purpose, the student in high school and college won't last beyond the first mid-year examinations if he has not practiced long and hard on memorizing facts and symbols.

What would happen to the student in medicine, law or engineering if he had not disciplined himself in the art of learning things by heart? Even the student of "education" whose professor rails against memorizing will be a failure unless he has done considerable boning in the course.

Memorizing Important

Curious how carelessly some speakers and writers refer to memorizing by school children. While they appear to condemn the learning of anything by heart, they really mean, as a rule, only to condemn such learning that is meaningless or useless to the child. A few extremists, of course, would condemn the memorizing of anything with a purpose. They would have the child memorize without knowing that he is doing it, as having a tooth pulled without feeling it.

You and I believe, on the contrary, that any item of fact of skill worth using is worth keeping and worth learning and practicing, to remember it. We believe that incidental learning, of items which will be used over and over again for years is often very unreliable, such as the basic addition and subtraction facts and the spelling of certain words.

What the ultra-modern school has forgotten is memory. Rightly it has put emphasis on meaning. Now let it balance this with memorizing in order to capitalize on the meaning. I would suggest the slogan, "After meaning, memorize," and I wouldn't quibble too much over the meaning of some very essential items like 8 and 5 are 13, 7 from 16 leaves 9. In contrast with prevailing practice, I would have the child memorize such basic fact before using it in a concrete problem. Then I should like to have him use this fact which was correctly learned, in numerous verbal problems, to help him hold fast to it.

Hundreds of parents have written me to send them the 100 simple addition and 100 simple subtraction facts to give their children (attacking four or five a day), to learn by heart. Hundreds more will keep writing me at 235 East 45th Street, N. Y. City, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it, in order to receive these pages and other suggested helps for the child with trouble in arithmetic.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

THOSE FIRE FANS

What with air fleets battering with deadly fury against London and Berlin, with Italian and British warships pounding at the enemy's island bases in the Mediterranean, and with the nation on tenterhooks over the state of its defenses, you would think there would be excitement in the world more than sufficient to sate the appetite of the most adventure-lusty jitterbug.

But think so, or not, you would be wrong. You have failed to take account of those idle, excitable souls who can never hear the fire siren's rising wail without bounding into their automobiles and streaking pell-mell in the wake of the fire trucks.

This pastime is now reaching the proportions of a hazard in many cities. The frivolous game of fire chasing has in fact, come to the point where firemen are now often hindered from rendering speedy protection to endangered property because they must first run the blockade of a fleet of machines parked, often as not, directly in the path of their own engines, or are forced to make a line charge with the hose through a stout wall of spectators, who have already raced to the scene of the fire.

Wouldn't you think these thrill seekers would find enough, even too much, excitement in the feverish course if world events without becoming fire truck chasers, menacing the efforts of those seeking to protect life and property? We would think so. But we're wrong. Professional fire fans galore are proof of it. How they got that way, we wouldn't know.

Mr. Willkie does not have to get some one to write his speeches. In fact he don't have to write them himself. He can tell great things right off hand.

Not long ago, a friend of ours listened to a hot argument between two fellows who didn't like each other, apparently.

After the debate our friend was asked what he thought of the arguments the two had advanced.

"As nearly as I could determine they agreed on only one point" he said "Each agreed that the other was a liar, and after hearing them talk I think they were both right."

OLD STUFF

News that a lie detector of uncanny accuracy has been invented still leaves a certain man cold.

"I had my first contact with one about 15 years ago" he explains—"and I haven't been able to get even a tiny fib by her since we were married."

We heard a man say the other day he could remember when folks in his home town, became very much excited and said things under a low breath if a woman rode a horse clothes-pin fashion.

And who remembers the long skirts women used to wear as they sat on the side-saddle?

Good Taste

Gen. U. S. Patent Office

By FRANCINE MARKEL

"A very prosperous man has asked me to marry him and we are congenial on all subjects except make-up," complains Eve. "He constantly gets on my nerves by criticising me for using lipstick and powder. What do you advise?"

Answer: I advise you to learn and apply the art of make-up just as seriously as you learn and apply the art of speaking or dressing correctly. Men with such standards generally hail from the back woods and acquire them from old-fashioned mothers or dowdy sisters who have educated them to class as "fast" all women who improve on nature. After they have had any social experience they are very likely to tire of the wife who neglects to thus improve herself and seek other women who do. Therefore, unless you are hopelessly in love with this man my advise would be that you look farther. Of course no man wants to see his wife over-made up, like a cheap chorus girl. Her lip rouge and powder should be of the colors that nature intended her lips and face to show when she is 100% vital. She should avoid mascara and eye-shadow during the daylight hours and should use face rouge sparingly, if at all, for this is almost a rougeless age. And although she may improve herself by using hair rinses, she should avoid platinum or other pale bleaches as well as deep henna or other pronounced dyes. And such improvements as she makes on Mother Nature's handiwork should be applied gradually. In other words, she should not suddenly appear before her friends so changed that she appears artificial.

Readers' Questions Answered

Question: Several years ago, I was secretly married and divorced. I never used my husband's name. I now plan to remarry my divorced husband. Here is my problem: Several people know of our previous marriage but the majority of my acquaintances have no knowledge of it. Would it be perfectly proper for my parents to send out formal, engraved announcements? Also, may I tell my friends in advance for they may wish to give parties for me?—Angela.

Answer: The wedding of a divorcee must, of course, be simple but her parents may, with good taste, send out both invitations and announcements. However, your case is vastly different, for despite the fact that you have never used your husband's name it is, technically, your correct name. And how can your parents, "Mr. and Mrs. John Smith have the honour to announce the marriage of their daughter, Mrs John Anthony Jones (or Anne Smith Jones) to Mr. John Anthony Jones." That would sound absurd! Marry quietly, without such fanfare. Tell your friends of your forthcoming marriage and invite them verbally or by written note. Or better still, "elope" with your former husband and let your family afterward spread the news by word of mouth.

What's What At A Glance

Believe Japanese May Be Bluffing
State Department Advances Thought
Jap Newspaperman Arouses Our Anger

By CHARLES P. STEWART
(Central Press Columnist)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—Hoshio Mitsunaga's warning that Uncle Sam must abandon his big naval base at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, if he wants to get upon better terms with the Mikado, undoubtedly has served to make our state and navy departments much angrier than any official utterances which thus far have come out of Tokio.

Mr. Mitsunaga isn't official at all. He's a newspaperman. Dispatches describe him as president of the Nippon Press association. His outfit's real name is the Nippon Dempo Tsusin Sha. Nippon is the Japs' own name for their own country. Dempo means great. That is to say, Nippon Dempo translates into Great Japan—just as the British call their set-up Great Britain. Tsusin means news by telegraph. Sha means an incorporated company—Thus, Nippon Dempo Tsusin Sha—Great Japanese Telegraph News company. It's a big concern and Mr. Mitsunaga is head of it. He's an important individual, who speaks with authority, but there's nothing governmental about him.

I don't think he intended to be sassy. Years ago, when I was a news correspondent in Tokio, I had a desk in the NDTS's offices, and knew their boss quite well. He was no jingo, but an extremely amiable old editor. My impression is that his idea wasn't to be personally threatening—that he simply was expressing what he takes to be Japanese public opinion. And he ought to be a good judge of it.

Anyway, he made our officialdom pretty hot under the collar.

Bluffing, Maybe

The state department isn't exactly inclined to be warlike. Secretary Hull's policy is to be firm, but our diplomats' notion clearly is that the Japs are bluffing— that they'll subside if they're called vigorously enough.

Our navy folk, though, aren't so sure that it's all bluff on the islanders' part. A good many of the naval crowd have been in the Orient themselves. They know how downright suicidal Nippon's professional fighters are—how ready they are to go to the mat regardless of possible consequences.

The situation isn't particularly any of our army's funeral. Whatever muss we have with the Japanese obviously will be on the navy's hands to attend to.

And one hears considerable navy departmental chat to the effect that now's the time for us to smash the Mikado's sea strength in as short order as we can do it. It's agreed that it's an inopportune juncture, with the present turmoil in Europe. Nevertheless, some of our strategists draw the line on this latest Pearl Harbor talk. Their reasoning is that we'd better put the Japs out of business before we have the European Axis to worry about, if ever.

Of course our experts all admit that we're at a disadvantage because of the long range at which we'd be forced to operate. Navy for navy we outclass the Mikado, but the latter certainly would keep his ships in his own home waters. We'd have to send ours three or four thousand miles across the Pacific. True, we have a Filipino base and unquestionably the British would make us welcome at Singapore. Still, it would be a long cruise for us to Manila and Singapore, whereas it's only an overnight voyage from Japan's southern Formosa to Manila, and Singapore also is right in the Mikado's oceanic dooryard.

Cut Off Supplies

One thing our navy men argue is that we can cut the Japs off from all their sources of supplies for fighting purposes.

Iron, for instance. They haven't any of their own. They might beat us to the Dutch East Indies and get some ore there. Or they could get plenty of it from their occupied area on the Asiatic mainland. It appears, however, that they haven't the reduction plants to treat raw ore. They've got to have already treated scrap, and we could cut that off easily enough.

That was a detail mentioned by Editor Mitsunaga.

If we're to be friends with the Japs, he said, we must make a new trade treaty with them, guaranteeing them adequate supplies of scrap iron and other junk, besides shutting up Pearl Harbor.

It's a safe bet that he'll be disappointed.

When that becomes evident to Tokio we'll soon ascertain just how much the Mikado's attitude is mere bluffing.

LIFE'S MEASURE

Some sorrows I've suffered; some pleasures I've taken,
But also some pleasures and sorrows I've missed.
Some storms have gone by leaving my faith unshaken
Nor have I been granted all joys on the list.

There are flowers I have wished for but never could grow them;
They bloomed for my neighbor as fine as could be—
Yet I learned that he was permitted to know them
He also had heartaches not sent unto me.

A blend of the good and the bad is life's measure
And somehow or other it sums up to this:
If I am not granted another man's pleasure
Some heartaches of his I'm permitted to miss.

The Great Game Of Politics

They Do Not Make Sense

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.

IN this campaign a good many feeble reasons have been advanced by trimming politicians and so-called "prominent citizens" on both sides for reversal of their previous positions. There have been several extraordinary and unedifying exhibitions of word swallowing. And there have been some outstanding cases of stultification.

HOWEVER, the limit in feebleness seems to have been achieved by certain individuals who formerly gained fame by depicting Mr. Roosevelt as incompetent and dangerous but now, when the polls to indicate his success, rush to proclaim themselves in favor of a third term for the man they denounced as a failure in his first term. One of the least important of these is Mr. James P. (Jimmie) Warburg, the New York banker, who last Monday, through the Democratic publicity bureau, solemnly announced his support for the third term candidate.

IT will be recalled that Mr. Warburg was one of the early Roosevelt financial advisers, but shocked by the economic unsoundness of the New Deal, cut loose during the first Administration and expressed himself in a little booklet called "Hell Bent for Election." In that booklet Mr. Warburg drew a devastating picture of Mr. Roosevelt as a vain, shallow, incompetent man with an overwhelming itch to be admired. It was in fact, a pretty dreadful indictment of the President made by an intimate friend.

SINCE then the New Dealers have had the same sort of affection for "Jimmie" they have for a rattlesnake. Nor was this feeling diluted by his declaration for Mr. Roosevelt in 1936. All that did was to contrast him with such men as Lewis W. Douglas, who split on equally basic issues, but did not flop back on the band wagon when the odds were 12 to 1. Mr. Warburg is neither an important political nor financial figure, and the only excuse for dwelling on his most recent declaration in behalf of a man who has expressed great contempt for him is that the reasons he gives are so identical with those of other more conspicuous floppers as to suggest a pattern.

CERTAINLY they all have been used before. Take, for example, the argument that because all the Republicans in Congress did not vote in accord with Mr. Willkie on conscription, it was proof that he would be unable as a President to unify his own party. This, of course, utterly ignores the fact that since his defeat on the Supreme Court packing bill, in 1937, Mr. Roosevelt has not been in control of Congress both branches of which have large Democratic majorities, and that his party is so deeply split that only through the help of anti-New Deal Democrats and Republicans was he able to secure modification of the Neutrality Act last year.

SECOND, there is the argument that Mr. Willkie is shown as lacking in principle because while urging the utmost aid to Britain, he welcomes the support of Senator Hiram Johnson, the great isolationist. This completely ignores the fact that one of Mr. Roosevelt's supporters is the isolationist Senator Robert La Follette, and that the President's chief journalistic supporter, the Daily News of New York is also isolationist.

Third, there is the argument that while Mr. Willkie strongly favors the Hull reciprocity treaties, his running mate, Senator McNary, is opposed to them. In making this argument, Mr. Warburg blandly ignores the fact that Mr. Roosevelt's Vice-President and running mate in two campaigns—Mr. Garner—is opposed to the New Deal's basic policy of spending was deeply resentful at Mr. Roosevelt's acquiessentful in the sit-down strikes and like Mr. Farley, Senator Glass and many other Democrats, regards the third-term candidacy as against the national as well as the party interests.

THE completeness with which these arguments can be turned would seem enough to make those who use them rather ashamed to use them. It seems impossible they should not know the answers and that to pretend their stand has been determined by such stuff is to be absurd. These arguments recall Mr. Willkie's assertion that the whole New Deal campaign appears to be waged on the assumption that the American people are just a lot of gullible children to whom it is possible to say anything so long as you say it pompously enough.

THE truth is that these reasons to excuse a flop to what seemed last week (but not so much now) the high side by Mr. Warburg and others who have felt it incumbent upon them to let the country know their position, border on the ridiculous Certainly the one asserting as a reason for keeping Mr. Roosevelt in and Mr. Willkie out that Mr. Roosevelt has been "tried" and Mr. Willkie "untried" sounds slightly silly coming from those who for

Governor Against Macing Employes

Will Be No Last Minute Attempt To Mace Employes In Pennsylvania

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Oct. 18—With the general election less than three weeks distant, Gov. Arthur H. James today placed himself on record as opposed to any last-minute attempt to "mace" state employes or violate the Federal Hatch Law.

He directed Attorney General Claude T. Reno to designate a deputy attorney general to investigate all complaints concerning alleged violations of the two election laws. Reno appointed Harrington S. Adams.

Both the governor's office and that of the attorney general stated, however, that no complaints had yet been made of violations of the law, the purpose being merely to be prepared, it was explained.

In announcing his step, Governor James said:

"Pennsylvania has been free from improper activities by, and political influence over, state employes for 21 months today. It is our intention to do everything in our power to maintain that record."

"I have the full co-operation in this respect of the Republican state chairman and the state Republican organization," he added.

"If violations of the law are revealed, they will not be concerned," the governor emphasized. "So far as my knowledge goes, it is the full intention of all Republican party workers and officials to comply both with the letter and with the spirit of the law."

"Should any state employe or private citizen of Pennsylvania have knowledge of what appears to be a violation of either the anti-macing or Hatch laws, I call upon them to make the information immediately available to Mr. Adams," Governor James advised.

Miss Zehner Will Go To Mansfield

Organist At First Presbyterian Church To Leave About Middle Of November

After serving as organist for two years at the First Presbyterian church and having won many friends in this community, Miss Mable Zehner will leave the city the middle of November to accept a new position as church organist at the First Presbyterian church, in Mansfield, O.

Miss Zehner came to New Castle from Ashland, O., where she had played as organist for fourteen years. She received her B. S. degree from the Chicago Musical college and has studied under prominent musicians in Boston, Cleveland and Pittsburgh.

During her stay here, she not only was organist, but directed the quartet, chorus choir, girl's choir, and junior choir. Se will present her farewell recital in the near future being assisted by Miss Mary Huber, well known pianist of Youngstown.

years have been pointing out Mr. Roosevelt's failures. If this argument means anything, it means that even though a man in office has been tried and made a mess of his job, still he must be kept on the job because no one else has had the same experience. Which just does not make sense.

GIVE THE DEW A CHANCE

"Give the dew a chance. Try it for a week" pleaded Capt. S. J. Parker, the government chief inspector of physical training in a speech in Orpington, England. "We would all benefit permanently in our general health" he continued, "if we spent with discretion five or ten minutes every morning barefooted on the grass carrying out simple but purposeful movements, such as walking and arm, leg, trunk and breathing exercises."

LOCAL BARBERS ENJOY BANQUET

Chicken Dinner Served Last Night; Al Candioto Is Toastmaster

Local 228, Journeymen Barbers, International Union, with master barbers and guests, held their annual banquet last night at a downtown restaurant.

A delicious chicken dinner was served and the toastmaster was Al Candioto, vice president, who took over the role when President Frank Mele was called to the bedside of his mother, who is ill.

It was one of the best banquets the barbers have had in several years. During the evening a message of sympathy was ordered sent to Andy Hoke, because of his being ill and unable to attend the annual affair. A bouquet was ordered sent to him. Mr. Hoke was a charter member of the organization.

Another veteran of the trade is Joe McCaskey. He was present last night. Mr. McCaskey is a member of the state advisory board, and in speaking of Mr. Hoke, asserted they had worked together more than 15 years and that Hoke was a member of the organization for 41 years.

Those who spoke briefly were barbers and guests, and follow: Jack McIntyre, Joe McCaskey, Sr., and Jr., Frank Fazzone, Herb Samuels, Ed. Fritz, Griff Lewis, Lee Lutz, William Covert.

Pottery Men Have Dinner Event

The Universal Athletic association of the Universal Sanitary Pottery met Thursday evening in Orr's hall for their regular meeting, which was in the form of a dinner, with installation services following.

At 6 o'clock the group enjoyed a delicious menu with Ray Caruthers as toastmaster.

Officers installed for the ensuing year include Emery Swogger, president; David Summers, vice president; Henry Matiste, Jr., secretary; and Michael Panella, treasurer. Directors of the group are Don Neyman, Paul Sydak, and Harry Hulton.

Remarks were made by the Pottery president, Keith McAfee; factory manager, Henry Matiste, Sr., and James Beam. Special guests were the retiring officers which include Joseph Molandro, president; Lawrence Gibson, secretary; Clarence Bixler, treasurer; directors, Joe Fortuna, Peck Huston and Charles Moore.

An out-of-town guest was Albert Schoelkoff, of Camden, New Jersey, who has been transferred from that city to New Castle.

Cards and games provided the pastimes after which the remainder of the evening was spent informally.

"THE STORE DEVOTED TO BETTER FITTING SHOES FOR BETTER HEALTH"

Dr. Dafoe's Column On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

(Copyright, 1940, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Almost every parent who calls a doctor to treat convulsions in a baby is frightened by belief that the seizure is epileptic, for most persons still look upon epilepsy as a disease, when actually epileptic fits are symptoms of disease just as ordinary convulsions are.

Epileptic fits are caused by a variety of things. Some epileptic seizures are of hereditary origin, others are the result of head injuries. Epileptic fits are almost exactly the same as the ordinary convulsions that occur in children up to three or four years of age, and the treatment should be the same as I have previously prescribed for convulsions—do nothing except keep the victim from striking his head on something and try and keep him from biting his tongue by inserting something, such as a towel, between his teeth.

Most laymen witnessing one of these terrifying—to them—seizures, wants to stop the jerking that the victim's body goes through during a seizure. Then when the attack is over, and the patient lapses into a deep sleep, they want to rouse him. This last, is of course, injurious to the child, because this sleep he fall into after a convulsion, is extremely beneficial. Naturally persons want to awaken the patient because they are concerned over his condition. They want to have him look at them and recognize them so they will be sure he is alright. Neverthtless, this natural impulse should be restrained.

An old woman once told me that when she saw anyone sleeping after an epileptic seizure she wakened them at once because she believed that during a convulsion the victim's soul left his body and should be coaxed back as quickly as possible. Such superstitions are still current in backyard sections. A similar superstition is that evil spirits have taken possession of the victim's body, and only by waking him can these spirits be driven out.

It is extremely difficult for any but an experienced practitioner to determine whether a young child's convulsions are epileptic or not. As I said above, all children up to the age of three or four are likely to have convulsions and these might or might not be epileptic in character.

A case finally diagnosed as epileptic gives an inevitable feeling of hopelessness, for no sure cure is known for it. In many instances, the epileptic patient goes steadily downhill until he must be under constant care. Yet many great men are reputed to have been epileptic. Caesar, the Roman conqueror, was one of these; so were Napoleon, Mohammed, Alfred the Great, Peter the Great.

In the past many looked on epilepsy as a form of insanity. This is not the case at all, for only the motor section of the brain is affected when an attack comes. And there is still ground for great hopes that medical science will conquer this condition.

AROUND CITY HALL

City Treasurer C. C. McKibben's idea of making quarterly collections of not only city but also school taxes apparently has struck a responsive mood and indications are council, will give it deep consideration.

When council acted favorably upon Solicitor R. M. White's suggestion that people be permitted to pay off Improvement liens at face, cost and simple interest it resulted in the saving of considerable money to property-owners.

One of the moves city officials should insist upon is that no person be permitted to start construction without first having received a building permit. Time and again permits have been taken out after building got under way.

The city collected $720.30, from parking meters during the past 10 days. It has been generally agreed that an efficient policing of the meters would increase the returns. An extra policeman has been assigned to meters.

Sergeant Boyle and Patrolmen Logan and Rigby will attend the Police school at Slippery Rock Teachers college one day a week. There are 12 other police from other places in the class instructed by Harold Pearce, ex-State policeman.

Council in session held in the municipal building Thursday adopted an ordinance making it possible of Improvement liens dated prior to January 1, 1936, from the time due to the time paid, at face, plus costs and 4½ percent simple interest per annum. The ordinance was recommended by Solicitor R. McKinney White. Other ordinances adopted provide as follows: Establishment of a new grade and paving as a city-WPA project of Florence avenue between Wolfe and East Washington street; reduction of the width of Howard way to 16 feet, which permits one foot of sidewalk on one side and three feet of sidewalk on the other side of the thoroughfare; and the re-conveyance of land in Crescent avenue which was not needed for an improvement there to Rose and Annabelle Stewart. The city also ordered paid them $44.00 for land needed.

PLAINGROVE

MASQUERADE PARTY

The Plaingrove Reading Circle held a masquerade party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cunningham on Friday evening. Group singing was led by Mrs. R. A. Stevenson; stunts, John Wimer and Mrs. Harry Cooper; special music, Mrs. George Cunningham; Dixies Echoes, a quartette rendered several musical numbers; duet, Ruth and William Fulton; a masked cake walk was won by Doris Watson and Miss Helen Sager. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by the younger group. The next meeting will be with Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Offut. This will be a Thanksgiving program and election of officers will take place at this meeting.

RAINBOW CIRCLE

The Rainbow Circle of the U. P. church met at the home of Lois McNulty on Monday evening. Leader was Mrs. Gertrude Adams. "What the tithe would do", Miss Mary Sankey; Self satisfying stewardship", Miss Stella Adams; "The entreaty of love", Miss Frances Brown; "Good news from far away countries", Miss Mary Shoaff; song; business. During the evening lunch was served by the hostess.

PLAINGROVE NOTES

Harry Bloom, of Prospect, was a caller on Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Wallace on Tuesday evening.

Delores Goodman has returned home from visiting several days at Pittsburgh with her sister, Mrs. Samuel Queen.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hogue held a family reception at their home on Wednesday evening for Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hogue, a recent bride and groom. Games were the diversion of the evening and lunch was served during the evening.

Mrs. Herbert Wallace and Mary Shoaff were callers on Mrs. A. W. Thompson of New Wilmington on Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Eliza Foster has returned home having spent several days visiting with her daughter, Mrs. Mina Neal of Grove City.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Roudybush, a recent bride and groom, were tendered a shower by the patrons of his milk route of which he is their driver. There were about 95 present. Games and social chat were the diversions of the evening. After the refreshments the young couple opened their gifts. Many useful and beautiful presents were presented to the couple.

QUEEN ESTHERS PLAN MASQUERADE ON MONDAY

Queen Esther class members of the Third United Presbyterian church, taught by Mrs. Bernard Hook, will hold a hallowe'en party in the "old Third church" (corner of Beckford and East Washington streets) with husbands and escorts as special guests, on Monday evening.

Mrs. Tom Coltis, Miss Pearl Colnot and Mrs. Ernest Crisswell compose the committee in charge of the entertainment, while the decorations will be in the hands of Mrs. Joe Must, Mrs. William McGuire and Mrs. Cecil Potter. Refreshments will be planned and served by Mrs. David Jones, Mrs. Jack Kenehan, Mrs. Edna Bame, Miss Leona Nolan and Mrs. Thomas Baskeyfield.

All members and participants will attend the event masked.

J. F. F. MEMBERS GUESTS IN OHIO

The Youngstown home of Mrs. Cecil Myers was the scene of the J. F. F. club meeting Thursday evening, when they gathered for a session of cards. Mrs. Joseph Todd, Mrs. Harold McCartney and Mrs. Edward F. Hite won the prizes, the latter being the galloper.

Special guests included Mrs. Eleanor Taylor and Helen Cannon, with the hostess gift falling to Miss Cannon.

Lunch was served at the close, and plans were made to meet again on Friday November 1 with Mrs. Harold McCartney of North Ashland avenue.

Happy Group Club

Miss Teresa Scaduto received members of the Happy Group club, Thursday evening at her home on Lyndal street.

Contests and games were played, the prize falling to Mrs. Lena Frediani. Mrs. Joseph Bordonaro, Jr., captured the club token.

Miss Margaret Bordonaro assisted the hostess in serving lunch. Plans were discussed for a hallowe'en party, to be held on October 23. Those on the committee are Mrs. Lena Frediani, Teresa Scaduto and Margaret Bordonaro, the event to be held in the latter's home, South Mill street.

The next regular meeting will be held on October 31, with Mary Ellen Bordonaro, rear South Mercer street.

Section 7 Meeting

Section 7 members, Women's society, First Baptist church, were received Thursday evening for their meeting in the home of Mrs. Clarence Klingensmith, Adams street.

THE MESSAGE OF JOHN THE BAPTIST

Highlights On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

John the Baptist Preaching.

"Bring forth therefore fruits worthy of repentance."—Luke 3:8.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for October 20 is Luke 3, the Golden Text being Luke 3:8, "Bring forth therefore fruits worthy of repentance.")

You remember of course that Zacharias, the priest and Elizabeth his wife had a son, born a few months before Jesus His name was John, so named by the angel who had annouced his birth to Zacharias.

This John a previous lesson said, spent much time in the wilderness and now he is a man who had been living in the wilderness for at least ten years, it is thought. It was the wilderness of Judea, a hot, blistering area known as Ghor, treeless, barren, sandy hillsides and rocky plateaus, that rise on the west side of the Jordan river.

In the 15th year of the reign of Tiberius Caesar, St. Luke tells us, when Pontius Pilate, was governor of Judea and Herod tetrarch (ruler) of Galilee and his brother Philip tetrarch of Ituraea, this John emerged from the wilderness and began to preach the baptism of repentance for the remission of sins.

John's was the "voice of one crying in the wilderness. Prepare ye the way of the Lord make His paths straight."

John was not one to speak softly to those whom he considered in the wrong. When the people flocked to hear him he called them "vipers" —a "generation of vipers," and told them that they might consider themselves safe from the wrath to come because they were the children of Abraham, but that God could raise up children of Abraham from the very stones thereabout.

The Hebrew were at this time a subject race, ruled by the Romans and those of their own people who would serve under them. Public officials and even high priests of the church, were dishonest unscrupulous and grafters. The poor were ground down, and the plight of the people of Israel was sad indeed. Under the circumstances no wonder they flocked to hear this new prophet who seemed to offer hope, even if he did belabor them for their sins. They gathered about him asking "What shall we do then?"

Share With Others

John answered the people: "He that hath two coats let him impart to him that hath none, and he that hath meat, let him do likewise."

They were not merely to repent, you see, and be sorry for their wrongdoing, but they were to be actively charitable and share with those who were worse off than themselves.

Then the publicans (the tax collectors and much hated) came to John and asked what they might do to put themselves right with their Maker "Exact no more than that which is appointed you, was the answer. These tax collectors often collected more money than they were supposed to by threats etc., and pocketed the difference between what they had taken and what they must give to the government.

The soldiers then asked what they should do and were told that they should do violence to no man, accuse no man falsely and to be content with their wages and not stir up trouble.

Can you imagine throngs flocking to the fields to hear a preacher today? If we had lost faith in our ministers and leaders as they had in John's time, it is quite possible that we would, however. And you must remember that the Jews were always looking for their Messiah to lead them out of all their troubles. Could this man be He, they asked themselves.

"And as the people mused in their hearts of John whether he were the Christ or not

"John answered, saying unto them all, I indeed baptize you with water, but One mightier than I cometh, the latchet (lacings) of whose shoes I am not worthy to unloose. He shall baptise you with the Holy Ghost and with fire."

Jesus Himself came to John and was baptized not because He had committed any sin, but because He wished to set an example to those who believed in Him.

As was said earlier in this lesson. John the Baptist did not mince his words when he considered anyone had done wrong. Herod the Tetrarch was an unscrupulous man and he had fallen in love with his brother Philip's wife and taken her from Philip. Her name was Herodias. John reproved him sternly, so Herold put him in prison, where he suffered martyrdom, although St. Luke does not mention the latter in this chapter.

The chapter closes with a genealogy of Joseph, Mary's husband and Jesus' earthly father, tracing it back to Adam, who, says, Luke, was the son of God.

DAILY DOZEN

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

Many people probe their ears with matches, toothpicks, hairpins.

External ear infection and injury to the drumhead may result.

Such ear disorders are frequently responsible for serious illness.

Blood infections, brain abscess and meningitis may occur.

One should not neglect an earache.

The dangerous mastoid disease may be prevented.

Blow the nose correctly when there is a head cold.

Do not press on either nostril and do not blow forcibly.

Infection may thus be driven up the eustachian tube.

Preventing ear troubles is safer and easier than curing them.

Never poke anything into your ear except your elbow.

This is very good exercise and very good for the ears.

Michigan Team Best Pullers

Rugged Pair Of Michigan Horses Win Annual National Dairy Show Honors

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Oct. 18.—A pair of rugged Michigan horses—Dutch and Ned—today were the national horse pulling crown, having earned that distinction last night at the national dairy show before nearly 8000 excited spectators.

Competing in the finals of the contest with five other teams, the Michigan duo, owned by Dan Arnold, Plainwell, R. D. 1, Mich., pulled a 24-ton load 25 feet, only two and one-half feet short of a world's record.

Three Pennsylvania teams finished in the first six. The owners are: J. C. Rhea, Worthington R. D. 2, was third; Roscoe Mitchell, Waterford R. D. 4, was fifth, and George Porter, Eighty-Four R. D. 2, was sixth.

Cattle Judged

In the cattle division, the judging of Jerseys and brown Swiss was completed yesterday, leaving the final judging of the Guernseys for today, next to the last day of the annual exposition.

An almost clean sweep of the Brown Swiss field was made by Lee's Hill farm, Morristown, N. J., taking senior and grand champion cow, reserev champion cow, junior champion bull, premier exhibitor, and premier breeder titles.

The Pennsylvania State College continued the domination of state entries in the Brown Swiss field when it registered a second, third, two fourths, two sixths and a seventh, the only state winner in the field.

Falklands farm, Schellsburg, a heavy winner through the show, copped three second places yesterday in get-of-sire, four animals, not more than two to be bulls; dairy herd, four cows each; and three females in milk, two years or older and bred by the exhibitor.

Judging will be completed today while tomorrow, the final day, will be devoted to auctions.

Intimidation Of Relief Workers Charge Is Made

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—Charging "vicious intimidation" of relief workers to deliver votes for President Roosevelt, the Workers Alliance of America today urged the senate campaigns expenditures committee to investigate election practices by the Democratic party.

The request was made before the committee by Richard N. McKibben, president of the Workers Alliance. He testified shortly after Howard O. Hunter, acting commissioner of works projects, denied before the committee that W.P.A. rolls are being padded, and that relief workers are engaging in illegal political activity.

"We charge," McKibben declared, "that every form of vicious intimidation possible is being employed, from threats of loss of W.P.A. jobs to the formation of an administration supported company union to force W.P.A. workers to vote for Roosevelt in the coming election."

Hunter, on the other hand, asserted that "such charges will not be substantiated," and that W.P.A. employment is now lower in relation to the total number of unemployed than at any comparable period since the beginning of the program."

Franklin High Ties Farrell

The Ben Franklin High football team played a 6-6 tie yesterday with the Farrel Junior High at the Farrell High Field. Humphrey scored the Franklin touchdown in the first half on a pass from Tedesko.

Farrell tied the count in the second half.

Decommissioned Subs to Go Back to Work

These submarines, tied up at Charlestown, Mass., said their farewell to arms after the World War. With many others, they will be recommissioned and returned to duty with the new Atlantic fleet. The Navy expects to have 36 of these undersea craft ready by January to augment the rapidly growing seapower of the United States. (Central Press)

Conn And McCoy Battle Tonight

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Oct. 18.—World light-heavyweight boxing champion Billy Conn, Pittsburgh, tonight clashes with Al McCoy, veteran Boston heavyweight, in a ten-round bout at Boston Garden.

Conn was rated a 12-5 favorite over McCoy, although the Pittsburgher's manager, Johnny Ray, was unable to obtain boxing commission consent to lengthen the bout. Ray sought a 12 or 15 round match but the commission denied the request, as no title is involved.

Conn is expected to weigh about 177 pounds when he enters the ring, two pounds over the light-heavyweight limit.

Babson Discusses Food Situation Now Reported In Europe

By ROGER W. BABSON
Copyright—1940—Publishers Financial Bureau

WHITEFIELD, N. H., Oct. 18.—So much loose talk exists as to the "great famine from which Europe will suffer this winter," readers will be interested in these facts:

Outlook For This Winter

There is no famine or serious food shortage at present in Germany, Holland, Denmark or unoccupied France. By serious food shortage, I mean to the extent that people actually suffer hunger. There are transportation difficulties and, most important, there is control. Control can have the same effect on the minds of consumers as shortages; but the background is the difference between a controlled store of food and an actual lack. All food supplies in Europe are rigidly controlled. Means of control are food cards or what we would call coupons. Everyone must have them. If one is fond of meat, he will find his allotment small; but cheese and maehrungsmittel—a catch-all nourishment—seems to suffice. Of course, in an American sense one does not get a "square" meal, but one can always complain about the food anywhere. With our meals, there is a terrific waste which the Germans are cutting out.

BABSON

The basic plan of the Germans is simple: Namely, to take inventory of all food stocks available in the Reich and to determine the allotment per person. They are extending this same method to regions under their control. It will be hard on the Dutch as their food standard was very high. The whole war could be expressed in food inequalities and the urge to find the common denominator in Europe. A bit over simplified, but you see the point. Under this system, there should be no famine in Europe this coming winter.

What Is "Hilfszugbayern"?

Hilfszugbayern is a type of train which the Germans have devised to run from place to place to help feed the people. One of these trains can handle over 100 cattle per day. The cattle are butchered at one end, processed as they pass through, and come out as good cuts, sausages, and goulash at the other end. Distribution is furthered by vacuum trucks which deliver hot food 100 miles away from central sources. The same principle is used in operating bake-shops and small clothing factories on trucks. However much we hate the Nazis, we should recognize that they are teaching the world what can be accomplished with foresight and organization. One cannot over-emphasize the effect of taking an inventory of all food, clothing, and other necessities and dividing them equitably—not necessarily equally—among all.

Money Vs Men

There is a curious development from this "control experience". Money loses its value. The rich can get no more food than the poor. The well-to-do are as limited as the less-well-off when all are on food cards. This effect, namely, the discovery that money does not bring power, is having a very great influence in Europe. Hence, the cry against Plutocrats or Plutokraten. There also is a second discovery in the Reich, namely, that to build an army and to reshape a nation under Fascism, money, as we have known it, is not needed. But I must not slip into that very interesting field of what is happening to the European money situation and to the Rothschilds as this column is about famine.

There may be a severe food shortage in the winter of 1941-1942 if the British blockade is then in effect. This may resolve itself into a famine of vitamins through the loss of fruits, leafy vegetables and dairy products. This would develop scurvey, eye diseases, and lung infections among the weaker people. But the winter of 1941-1942 is a long way ahead. Besides the Germans are making tests feeding people on common grass—very rich in vitamins—which may have revolutionary results.

How Will the War End?

Whatever food statistics show, let us remember that, in the end, the war will be decided by feelings rather than by figures. Whatever our nationality, we have spiritual obligations to all nations. In the sight of God, we are still brothers whether Americans, Germans, English, Italians or Japanese. Therefore, let us consider the following:

1. It may take one or more years, but Germany can continue to drop bombs until England is laid waste.

2. It may take one or more years, but Great Britain can continue to blockade Europe until millions die from famine.

3. Either America or Russia will some time be able to be a great factor in bringing about peace by offering food, clothing, shelter and other necessities to the peoples of both England and Europe.

Who shall finally hold out the helping hand to those stricken peoples? Shall it be Christian America or atheistic Russia? Shall it be Democracy or Communism? The time for such profound help has not yet come. Conditions are not yet bad enough; but they can be bad enough some time, perhaps by 1942.

It, therefore, seems to me that—as part of our defense program—we should (1) Publically make a survey of England's and Europe's needs, revising this from month to month; (2) Begin now to store in huge quantities later to be needed supplies. (3) Constantly tell the peoples of both Great Britain and Europe that when their leaders will sit about a conference table and settle their difficulties, we will give them these needed commodities.

I believe in our present defense program; but I also know that one dollar spent on the above three-feature plan would do as much to shorten the war as five dollars spent on new battleships and the training of millions of men.

MILK FOR CHILDREN

Mothers should remember that milk is one of the best protective foods for the children. A quart a day usually is not too much for a child, or an adult, though the latter may prefer just a pint a day. Most children like to drink milk, but if they do not, it may be supplied in the form of custards, or with chocolate added for a chocolate-milk drink.

Confident Chest Drive Will Top Goal Early

Driving ahead with enthusiasm undiminished, New Castle's Community Chest campaigners were confident today that the bulk of its solicitation work will be finished before its second campaign report luncheon on Tuesday, October 22.

Wednesday noon $21,133 of the goal of $60,500 was reported subscribed. No further formal report has been made, but drive leaders look for early victory next week.

This afternoon a tea for women workers of the drive will serve the two-fold purpose of bringing the six teams together for a "progress report" and of spurring them on to new accomplishment.

The tea will be at 4 in the parlors of the Y. W. C. A. and will be in charge of Mrs. William J. Caldwell, commanding the women's division.

The first campaign report showed the $21,133 subscribed. It was frankly admitted by Campaign Chairman Paul G. Dingledy however, that most of the first report was "just a portion of what's in."

Despite that fact, much work remains ahead and today and through the week end more homes, stores, offices and industrial plants will be visited by the workers.

Upon the successful completion of the drive rests the financial support of nine important welfare and character-building agencies which have long been fixtures in the community life of New Castle.

Church Sodality Will Have Party

Members of the Young Ladies' Sodality of St. Joseph's church gathered for their regular session Thursday evening, at 8 o'clock in the club rooms, at which time, plans were discussed for a hallowe'en masquerade party.

The event will be held on Tuesday, October 29 in the club rooms. Those in charge are: Elizabeth Sansoni, Mary Costello, Leona Preisel, Mary Elizabeth Schweikert, Pauline Peluso and Rita Metz.

A white elephant party has been planned for members and friends, to take place at the next meeting on November 7. Rev. Fr. William J. Erkens, spiritual advisor of the Sodality, closed with prayer.

AUTO DAMAGED IN GARAGE FIRE

Fourth ward firemen were called to the property or Orville Wright at 818 Butler avenue, at 5:45 o'clock, Thursday afternoon, when an automobile in a garage in the rear of the place caught afire. Considerable damage was done to the garage and the auto, it is stated.

The Lake of Soap, in Grant county, Washington, foams when stirred by wind, leaving soap-like suds upon the shores.

Young People Will Have Rally Tonight

Young people of the Lawrence County Branches of the Christian and Missionary Alliance will sponsor a local rally this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the People's Gospel Tabernacle, located on High street in New Wilmington. The program will be in charge of Rev. Russell Schillinger of South New Castle Boro, who is president of the district.

Rev. Robert Ellenberger of Beaver Falls, former pastor of Castlewood Chapel, will be speaker for the evening. Rev. Ellenberger has spoken here many times. Joseph Jenkins will be in charge of the song service, while talented young Eddie Jenkins will be pianist. Various churches will be represented in musical selections.

The branches cooperating in this endeavor includes: Gospel Tabernacle, 210 Pearson street Hoover Heights Tabernacle, South New Castle Boro; Washington Union Mission, West Side; People's Mission, Sampson street; Castlewood Chapel, Castlewood; Drake Tabernacle, Leesburg; Ellwood Alliance church, Ellwood City, and People's Tabernacle, New Wilmington.

LIONS TO HEAR MAJOR

Dr. W. Fulton Jackson, member of the Officers' Reserve of the United States Army, will tell members of the Lions club about the First Army summer maneuvers at Ogdensburg, N. Y., when he speaks at the club luncheon in The Castleton Tuesday, October 22. Dr. Jackson, a major, attended the "mock war" session.

Red Cross Has First Aid Room

During the meeting of the Mid-Western Penna. Teacher's Association conference at the Cathedral, Mrs. Robert Peterson is in charge of the Red Cross First Aid room which is being maintained during the entire session.

The Lawrence County Chapter gives this service to any group holding a gathering of large proportion and it is Mr. Culliford's hope that any group bringing a conference to New Castle, will avail themselves of this Red Cross service.

Those assisting at the booth today are: Mrs. Bernice Crowl, Mrs. Plummer Gibson, Mrs. Anna Castelle.

Firemen Will Meet On Monday At Walmo School

Neshannock Township Volunteers Are Looking For Suitable Fire Truck

Neshannock Township Volunteer Fire Department will meet Monday evening at 7:45 o'clock in the Walmo school building, at which time financial matters in connection with the organization will be discussed.

During the past few weeks, members of the organization have been "shopping around" for a suitable fire truck for the firemen. Three sirens have been purchased and have been erected one in the Clenmore district, one in Walmo, and the other in the Highland Heights area.

A recent addition to the volunteer organization is an auxiliary which holds regular meetings in the school building.

White Footed Deer Mice Are Found

Fox Finds Nest Of Unusual Kind While Working At Gaston Park

At every season of the year, the outdoors hold many surprises for those who look for them, which brings much enjoyment to the life of a lover of nature.

A few afternoons ago in Gaston Park, while mulching some trees that had been newly planted, Owen Fox found among the straw mulch, a pair of white footed deer mice had built a nest there, in preparation for the cold days to come.

Deer mice are scarce in this community. The last time Mr. Fox saw a deer mouse was five years ago, in an old robin's nest, that had been built in a thorn bush. The mice had lined the nest with small leaves, and bound the top down with grass, with an entrance about the size of a 5-cent piece.

These deer mice are very beneficial, consuming a large amount of injurious insects during a season. Due to the fact that some species of owls feed on them, to find these little creatures in the fields, is quite rare.

A person wonders how these small bodied animals survive the bitter cold of winter. They prepare themselves for this, by putting upon themselves layers of fat, by added eating. This is the time that they visit the corn fields, after the frost has hardened the kernels, which they carry away in their cheek pouches, to stow away, for food throughout the winter, until spring and warm weather, when grasshoppers, earth worms and many types of beetles become plentiful again.

Local Party Going To 'Y' Convocation

General Secretary Meermans Heads Group To Pittsburgh Monday

FRANK P. MILLER

General Secretary Robert L. Meermans of the New Castle Y. M. C. A. will head the party of local "Y" leaders who will join "Y" men from all over Western Pennsylvania for the annual Western Convocation of the Pennsylvania State Y. M. C. A. at the Downtown Pittsburgh "Y" Monday, October 21.

Committees charged with handling boys' work, physical education and industrial, religious and other matters will be assembled to blend the policies of the state committee with policies of local associations.

Among the subjects to come under review are the Industrial Foreman's Conference enlisting a thousand foreman in better human relations, the father and son movement under the leadership of Justice Marion D. Patterson of the Pennsylvania supreme court, three older boys' conferences in December at Clearfield, Johnstown and Meadville and the Western Pennsylvania Young Men's conference in November.

Speakers at the evening banquet will include Frank P. Miller, president of the McCrosky Tool Corp. of Meadville and Dr. Hugh Thomson Kerr, pastor of Shadyside Presbyterian church of Pittsburgh.

Nature has provided desert animals with anatomical safeguards against dust. These animals can close their nostrils and eyes during dust storms, and remain unaffected by the ordeal.

The first United States postage stamp in 1847 bore the portrait of Benjamin Franklin and was worth five cents.

Refugee Garments Will Be Tagged By Members Of Class

At a meeting of Dr. T. J. McFate's Sunday school class, the young women accepted the responsibility of tagging all refugee garments made by the Lawrence County Chapter, American Red Cross volunteers. The young women will meet at the Chapter House for an hour each Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

Some of the young women also are to take up knitting under the supervision of Mrs. Robert Garland. Mrs. James Rhodes, production chairman, states there are many other projects which young women's organizations, having no time during the day, might be willing to assist with at an evening meeting held weekly in the Chapter's House.

If there are such groups, if they will just contact the Chapter office, plans can be made for their services.

Miss Lois Bell, of Unity, spent Wednesday night at the home of her sister, Mrs. Paul Osborne.

Mrs. Chester Cover and children spent Saturday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Dodds.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Anderson, of Wooster, O., were week-end visitors at the home of his mother, Mrs. F. M. Anderson and family.

Mrs. Florence Mick, has returned to her home at Pulaski. After spending the week at the home of her aunt, Mrs. F. M. Anderson and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Bowen and Miss Vera Schoffield, of Conneaut Lake, were visitors at the home of his cousin, Joseph Bowen, and family on Friday.

Rev. Albert Dodds, of Harrisville, and sister, Mrs. George Duelle, of Pittsburgh, were Friday visitors at the home of their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Dodds.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Anderson, Dale and Samuel, and Mrs. Esma Minich spent the week-end at the home of the latter's son, Merle Minich, and wife at Warren, Pa.

Mrs. Robert Cummings, of New Castle, and daughter, Mrs. Scott Frankenberg, of Volant, spent Thursday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Heckathorne.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Blake, daughter, Ethel, Mrs. James Holden, daughter, Betty, and Mrs. F. A Hoagland were Sunday afternoon visitors at Sharon, where they went to see the latter's sister, Mrs. Mamie Rankin, who is seriously ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Ligo opened their home on Friday evening when their sister-in-law, Mrs. William Cosgrove, entertained her Sunday school class of the Presbyterian church of Wampum. A pleasant evening and delicious lunch was enjoyed by all.

A number of the ladies of White Chapel church met at the home of James Mayne, and children on Wednesday afternoon and Thursday, and pared aplies and made 20 gallons of apple butter. Mr. Mayne, and children are very grateful to these women for their kindly help.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ryhal, and daughters of Sharpsville, were dinner guests at the Bowen home on Sunday. In the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. William Clingan and family of New Castle, were visitors. Mrs. Mary Clingan, and daughter who had spent several days with her brother, Joseph Bowen, and family, returned home with them.

The middle star in the handle of the Big Dipper has a small companion star so near to it that only a person with very good eyesight can separate them, yet actually they are about 15,000 times as far apart as the distance between the earth and the sun.

RETONGA IS PRAISED BY MR. JOHN MELLON

"It Helped Me When Everything Else I Tried Had Failed," Declares Well-Known Pittsburgh Resident. Gives Facts In Own Case

More grateful public praise for Retonga is heard every day as well known men and women come forward to tell their happy experiences with this purely vegetable stomachic medicine. Among the latest is Mr. John Mellon, well known resident of 1601 Brighton Place, and for fifteen years a trusted employee of the University of Pittsburgh, who enthusiastically declared:

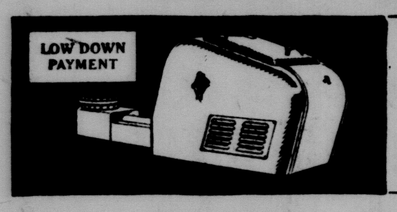

"I would not be without Retonga for it brought me relief when everything else I tried had failed! My appetite was not good, and I lost weight and got to where I felt so bad I was losing time from work. I had to take laxatives every night. I felt tired, my body ached, I got little restful sleep.

"Retonga brought me wonderful relief. My appetite returned, and I have regained several pounds. I feel like a different man and my friends tell me I look lots better and stronger. I do not hesitate to recommend Retonga to anyone who needs a splendid gastric tonic.

Retonga is compounded of medicinal roots, herbs and barks especially intended to increase the flow of gastric juices in the stomach, and aid nature in removing toxic wastes from the bowels. Genuine Retonga may be obtained at Eckerds Drug Store.

Combustioneer

Automatic Coal Burner

COMBUSTIONEER alone provides the Automatic Respirator — the Breathing Fuel Bed — the Patented Transmission — which mean more heat at low cost.

BIG BARGAIN IN HEATING COMFORT

"I know what real heating comfort is. The temperature remains constant throughout the house and all the work attendant with hand-firing is now completely eliminated," says an enthusiastic user of COMBUSTIONEER Automatic Coal Burner.

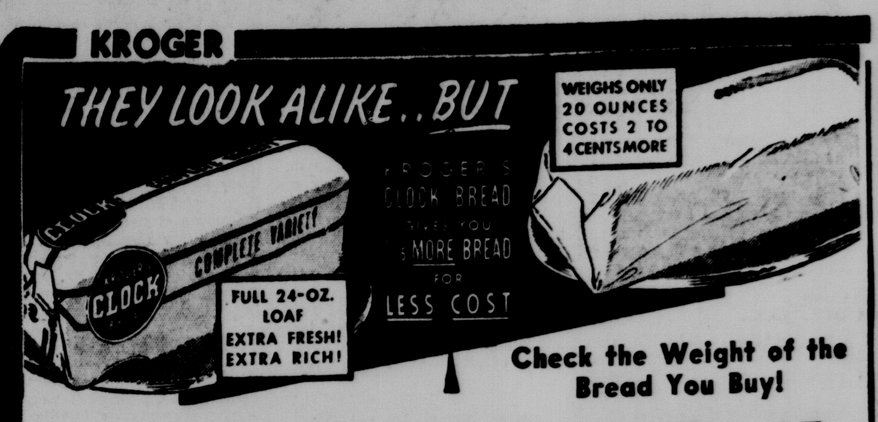

And you save money, too. COMBUSTIONEER, installed in your furnace or boiler, burns the lower priced sizes of coal—the thrifty fuel that gives full-bodied warmth.

Shenango Groups Meet At Rich Hill

Presbyterial Districts Have Annual Meeting Thursday; Hear Guest Speakers

Approximately 130 were in attendance at the Sharon and New Wilmington districts of Shenango Presbyterial annual meeting held Thursday morning and afternoon in Rich Hill Presbyterian church. Guest speakers at this meeting were Mrs. George Randall from the National Board of Missions and Miss Eva Miller, a missionary to the Cameroun, West Africa.

At the morning session, which got underway at 10 o'clock, Mrs. K. K. McCreary presided and Mrs. J. J. McIlvaine conducted devotionals. After the welcoming message by Mrs. McCreary, special music was presented by the Rich Hill church choir, under the direction of Mrs. Scott Kirk, who had charge of the music. Reports of the officers and treasurer, Mrs. F. R. Woods, were given, after which Mrs. J. W. Brewster, president of Shenango Presbyterial, brought greetings. The guest speakers were introduced by Mrs. McCreary and announcements were made to close the morning session.

At noon, luncheon was served by women of the church to about 20 officers, others taking their luncheons.

The meeting resumed at 1:30 o'clock with Mrs. J. F. Cowling presiding. Special music during the afternoon was presented by Mrs. Stanley Reese, vocalist. After devotionals, led by Mrs. Dudley M. Pollock, roll call took place and the offering was received.

In her most interesting address, Mrs. Randall told of her work with the National Board of Missions in Cuba, telling of conditions there, and also, of her work with the negroes. Miss Miller told, in an interesting manner, of her experiences in Africa, the method of living there and of mission work in the Cameroun. Miss Miller is a daughter of Rev. Homer K. Miller, pastor of Rich Hill church.

Following a selection by the choir, this annual meeting was brought to a close with the benediction, pronounced by Rev. Miller.

Complete Task Of Breaking Stone On East Cherry Street

Will Be Ready For Black-Top Surface Within Short Time

WPA workmen have completed the task of breaking stone for the base on East Cherry street and will be ready within a few days to pour the first of the black-top surface material.

The street is being re-built between Newell avenue and the bridge at the foot of the steep hill leading to the West Pittsburgh road.

When completed this street will be a great improvement and will be appreciated by the many people who use the thoroughfare going to the B. & O. Railroad shops, the Universal Sanitary Manufacturing Company and to West Pittsburg.

Petain Announces Anti-Jewish Moves Of His Government

Stringent Measures Are Adopted By French Government It Is Announced

(International News Service)

VICHY, Oct. 18.—Stringent anti-Jewish measures were adopted by the French government of Premier-Marshal Henri Philippe Petain today.

Under a newly promulgated decree all Jews will be forbidden from holding public office or the rank of officers in the army, navy, or air force.

The same strict decree bars all Jews from working in the newspaper, radio, or movie industries.

Under terms of the decree, Jews cannot belong to any government administration, elected assembly, or courts.

All Jews now holding jobs on the banned list will be given two months in which to resign.

The decree not only applies to France but to French colonies as well where Jews are to be excluded from any political administrative function, teaching, or municipal post.

The only exceptions will be under special decrees and will extend to Jews who were decorated with the military medal, war cross, or the Legion of Honor in the World War or received a citation in the 1940 war.

Special decrees will also limit the number of Jews who will be permitted to work in the professions.

Today's decree defined a Jew as any person with three grandparents of Jewish heritage or a person with two Jewish grandparents who married another Jew.

A BRIDE OF TWO MONTHS AGO SAYS:

I felt sure that shopping would be a tough job . . . especially when I found that my husband was a "crank" for good food. Since I have been shopping at a Home Town Market my food budget has been cut and the quality of our foods has gone up. My husband now tells the "boys" that he sure has a smart wife. I give credit to my Home Town Market grocer for selling me high quality foods at such low prices.

Council Meets On Thursday

Large Number Of Routine Matters Come Before Members At Session

LONG DISCUSSION OVER SOME OF BILLS

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 18—In a session that lasted for several hours, the Ellwood City Council at an adjourned meeting last night in the city building accomplished little other than the transaction of routine matters.

Objections to the payment of two bills caused long discussions. One bill was $27.50 for injuries sustained by the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Patterson, who fell off the slide at Ewing Park fracturing his arm. The accident occurred, it was said after playground hours. Various members of Council contended that the playgrounds were maintained jointly by the Council and the School Board and that the latter body should pay a part of the bill. Other members declared that the accident occnurred on boro property and boro equipment and should be paid by Council while still others maintained that the equipment had been given to the playground commission and that they should be responsible. The boro solicitor finally advised that the Commission was appointed under authority of Council and that Council should pay the bill. Upon his further advice it was decided to secure bids on liability insurance to protect the boro from further damage claims.

The other contested bill was one of $435 to the Herge Electric company. The bill was for free parking signs erected about town directing motorists to the P. and L. E. parking ground. Councilman Zeigler having resigned, his successor, Harry Caplan, having not taken his place on the police committee, and the other member, Herbert Habert having moved to South Bend, Ind., the only other member of the police committee, Nick Lanzi, said that he had purchased the signs, as the police committee had been given authority to act on the matter. Members of Council contended that the signs had cost too much and declared that they were under the impression that the cost would only be about one hundred dollars. It was finally decided to have Mr. Herge attend the next meeting, in order that some settlement might be reached.

Heed Boro Manager

Councilman Curry declared that the Chamber of Commerce secretary was issuing orders to boro employees and a motion followed and was passed that employees pay no heed to orders except those given by the boro manager.

A request from Howard Smith, of the Zoning commission, that legal counsel be given the body in preparing the zoning ordinance was received and his request that Clyde Gibson be retained as counsel was granted. A resolution followed that Mr. Gibson be employed for one month at a salary of $150.

The controversial police question did not come up for discussion save a motion being passed that bids be advertised for a two-way radio police car

Having been tabled for several months, the free barbage collection ordinance was again presented by A. J. Howell and passed on second reading, with Biordi, Lanzi and Meneice voting negatively. It was said that the ordinance would not be presented again for several months for final reading giving members further time to study the matter.

For Hallowe'en Celebration

A request of the merchants division of the Chamber of Commerce to provide an orchestra and stand for the hallowe'en celebration was granted. It was agreed to issue a warrant to the American Legion for $300 for the 1940 Armistice Day celebration to be held here.

The state highway department will be asked to take over all of Fifth street below Lawrence avenue and to re-surface it with ameisite as was done with Lawrence avenue, Fourth street and part of Crescent avenue.

Resolutions calling for the construction on storm sewer in Third street and Woodside avenue, were approved with the work to begin upon the completion of the 1940 street paving projects.

Plans for the North Heights building sites as presented by Max Brownstein were passed with the provision that the developer meet the requirements of street grading and sewer installation. The Eichenlaub plan of lots was also presented for approval with the same requirements.

It was agreed to have an ordinace repared establishing the curb lines of Foch street extension leading into the Rolling Hills and Park View plan of lots. It was said that the deed dedicating 20 feet as a city street would be presented by Max Brownstein, to make the street 48 feet wide.

A request of the Ellwood Water Company for main line extension in Seventh street was referred to the utilities committee. . . . To widen the Sims street approach to the Ewing Park bridge from Fountain avenue, a resolution was passed.

The boro manager was given power to advertise for bids for an air compressor.

A letter from C. L. Bauder stated that the boro would be given no further discounts on parts or labor bills because of the decrease in work given to his garage. The letter was placed on file.

Damage in fire for the month of September amounted to one hundred dollars. Total fines, costs and forfeits in the police department were listed at $88.

A very large tax return was made for the month of September with the total collection on real estate being $30,000 and $1,267 on personal tax. Of the amount, $76 was listed for 1938; $305, for 1939; and $28,298 for 1940.

Although he has moved to South Bend, Ind., and has been absent from the past two meetings, no resignation has been received from Herbert Habert, Fourth Ward councilman. If no resignation is received within sixty days, his chair will be declared vacant. The vacancy will be filled by an election of council and it is said that there is now a lively race between twelve aspirants for the office.

Baptist Mission Society Assembles

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 18—For the monthly session, members of the Women's Missionary society of the First Baptist church gathered last night in the church parlor with thirty-three members participating.

"Christian Citizenship" was the discussion subject with Group Two being in charge of the program. A special feature was a duet by Mrs. H. C. Steinberger and Mrs. B. G. Osterhouse. Mrs. Orin Brandon, of Slippery Rock, was a special guest and spoke on the theme.

Mrs. Mami Worell, Mrs. Martha Richards, Mrs. Ruth McConaghy and Mrs. Catherine Jones were hostesses and served a dainty lunch.

Thursday, November 21, is the date of the next meeting.

UNION AUXILIARY

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 18.—The Sons of Union Veterans Auxiliary will meet tonight at 8 o'clock in the Fourth street V. F. W. hall.

Alice Shirley Honors Couple

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 18.—Miss Margaret Battersby and Clifford Grandy, whose marriage will be an event of Saturday, November 9, were pleasingly honored at a miscellaneous shower last evening.

The event was held by Miss Alice Shirley, of Todd avenue, and the guests were the executive committee of the Fellowship society of the Y. P. C. U. of the U. P. church.

Appropriate games were enjoyed with the hostess being aided by her mother, Mrs. Carl Shirley, in serving a dainty lunch.

The engaged couple was presented with many attractive gifts.

Railroad Talk Is Heard By Rotary

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 18—The American Railroad system is better prepared to take care of any emergency and are taking part in the huge governmental defense program, Mr. Magee, of Pittsburgh, district manager of the Association of Railroads, told members of the local Rotary club last night at their weekly dinner meeting in the Presbyterian church.

The speaker presented by Moss Lauderbaugh told of the work of the railroads and the amount of employees they have.

Charles Coen was received into the club as a new member.

Tuesday night, October 29, the club will join the Chamber of Commerce dinner to be held at the Baptist church in dedication of the Ewing Park bridge.

Wurtemburg Church To Begin Services

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 18.—Beginning on Sunday evening, October 20, and continuing through Sunday, November 3, special evangelistic services will be held at the Wurtemburg Methodist church of which Rev. Mary Johnson is pastor.

The services will begin each evening at 7:45 o'clock with Mrs. C. F. Clifton, of the Clifton evangelistic party, as the speaker. The Cliftons conducted services here a number of years ago and were very well received at that time.

ATTEND BANQUET IN PITTSBURGH

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 18.—Mrs. Paul Forsythe, Mrs. James Wallace, Mrs. Stanley Haddock and Miss Cora Thompson motored to Pittsburgh last evening where they attended a reception and banquet held at the Soldiers and Sailors Memorial hall in honor of the national president, Mrs. Clara Gallaher, of Philadelphia, and the national commander, Dr. J. Kirkwood Craig, of Pittsburgh, of the Sons of Union Veterans Post and Auxiliarys.

SLIPPERY ROCK SOCIETY MEETS

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 18.—An all-day meeting of the Ladies Aid society of the Slippery Rock Presbyterian church took place on Wednesday at the church.

Twelve members attended and spent the day cleaning the church in preparation for the annual chicken supper on Thursday, October 24. Mrs. Charles Wilson conducted the devotions. They will meet again the first Wednesday of November.

SANKEY W. C. T. U.

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 18.—The Clinton Sankey W. C. T. U. will meet on Monday night at the home of Mrs. L. A. Lightfritz, Wurtemburg Heights, with Mrs. Emmett Gallaher as leader.

Thursday Night Social Affairs

Many Delightful Club And Social Events Held At Homes In Community

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 18—Among the many pleasant social activities of Thursday afternoon and evening were:

T. T. T. Club

Miss Martha Bollinger was a special guest of the T. T. T. club whose members were pleasantly entertained last evening at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Bollinger, of Frisco.

Cards were the pleasant diversion with the top honors going to Mrs. Andrew Hines, Mrs. Nathan Woodfield and Mrs. Wilbur Hall.

After the hostess served a refreshing lunch, members departed to meet again on Thursday, October 31, at the home of Mrs. Nathan Woodfield, Frisco.

Variety Club

At the home of Mrs. Reed Hall, of Todd avenue, members of the Variety club were welcomed last evening.

Cards occupied the hours in a diverting manner with the nice awards going to Mrs. Kenneth Lauderdale, Mrs. Harry Buckley and the travel prize to Mrs. Howard Young. Mrs. Hall served seasonable refreshments.

Another meeting will be held on Thursday, October 31, at the home of Mrs. Theodore Patterson, Todd avenue.

Just Us Club

Mrs. Bessie Smith and Mrs. Minnie Anderson were pleasing hostesses to members of the Just Us club last evening at the Smith home, in Hazel avenue.

Plans were made to hold a masquerade box social on Wednesday, October 30, at the home of Mrs. Josephine Alfonso, First avenue. The next meeting in November will be held at the home of Mrs. Edna Steinbeck, New Castle road.

The top awards in bingo and 500 went to Mrs. Tina Alfonso and Mrs. Ruth Weaver. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Tally Ho Club

Miss Phyliss Thomas opened her home, in Glen avenue, graciously last evening to members of the Tally Ho club.

For several hours, cards were enjoyed with the attractive prizes going to Mrs. Grace Zeigler and Mrs. Marjorie Wallace. Delicious refreshments were served at one table featuring pretty Hallowe'en decorations.

T. O. B. Club

Mrs. Paul Schaffer was a special guest of the T. O. B. club whose members were welcomed last evening by Mrs. James Casey, of Clover avenue.

Auction bridge was featured with the pretty prizes going to Mrs. Gene Niro and Mrs. Joseph Smith and a guest favor to Mrs. Schaffer. Mrs. Bruce Myers aided in serving a refreshing lunch.

The Lawrence avenue home of Mrs. Joseph Latiano will be the next meeting place on Thursday, October 24.

Valentine Club

Last evening, Valentine club members were hospitably entertained at the home of Mrs. Charles Follette, of Line avenue. Mrs. Chester Craven was a special guest.

After several hours of playing 500, the nice prizes went to Mrs. Hubert Norton, Mrs. Edward Rutter and Mrs. Ralph Nye. The hostess served a delicious repast before members departed to meet again on Friday, November 1, at the home of Mrs. Edward Rutter, of Frisco.

Progressive Club

After a dinner last night at Portersville, members of the Progressive club returned to the home of Mrs. Edward Howells, of Orchard avenue, for the bi-weekly meeting.

Bridge at two tables held the attention of the group with the top honors going to Mrs. Clarence Eiler and Mrs. Robert McCabe. At one table, featuring clever hallowe'en decorations, a tempting lunch was served by the hostess.

Two weeks from today the group will meet at the home of Mrs. Lewis Bentrim of Park avenue.

Bide A Wee Club

Bide A Wee club members were entertained pleasantly last evening by Mrs. John Spielhauper of Orchard avenue with Mrs. Alfred Melzer and Mrs. Joseph Poholsk being special guests.

Cards diverted the group with the seasonable wards going to Mrs. John Christie and Mrs. Clifford Bunney.

After the hostess served a refreshing lunch, members departed to meet again on Thursday, October 31, at the home of Mrs. Arthur Green, of Ellport.

Hallowe'en Party Enjoyed By Class

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 18—A merry hallowe'en party took place last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Morgan of Knox, where they were pleasing hosts to the Adult Bible classes of the Knox Presbyterian church.

After unmasking, the devotional period was led by the president, Mrs. Elmer Moyer.

A diverting period of games and contests followed with the hostess being aided in serving a tempting lunch by Mrs. Charles Hauserman and Mrs. Frank Foreman.

The next meeting will be held in December at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hauserman, of Frisco.

Hazel Dell WCTU Plans Activities

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 18.—Mrs. Harry Kirkwood and Mrs. Charles Boggs graciously entertained members of the Hazel Dell W. C. T. U. on Thursday afternoon at the former's home on Hazel avenue. Fourteen members and one guest, Mrs. Lillian Wimer, participated Devotions were led by Mrs. Tina Houk and Mrs. Yetta LeFever. During the meeting conducted by the president, Mrs. Ralph Thompson, plans were made to sponsor a poster contest in the Ewing Park and Northside schools and to organize an L. T. L. society in the fourth ward.

For the next meeting, on Thursday, November 21, at the home of Mrs. Edward Mallary on Line avenue, a dues social was planned to be observed with a special program.

After a pleasant social hour a tempting lunch was served by the hostesses.

King's Daughters Meet At Church

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 18—Twenty-two members of the King's Daughters class of the United Presbyterian church gathered last night at the church for an enjoyable session.

Devotions were conducted by Mrs. Joseph Kaiser, Mrs. Lillian McKim and Mrs. Edward Harbison.

Hallowe'en games were featured under the direction of Mrs. Lowry and Mrs. George Burrows after which seasonable refreshments were served by Mrs. Nell Phelps, Mrs. Oswald Lersch, Mrs. H. E. McClymonds and Mrs. Hugh Tomb.

PIONEER SOCIETY HAS MERRY PARTY

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 18.—Amidst clever decorations, members of the Pioneer society of the Y. P. C. U. of the U. P. church last night enjoyed a merry Hallowe'en party at the church.

Decorations were in charge of Wilbur McKim and Paul Burrows.

Games of an appropriate kind were directed by Miss Bessie Burrows, the counsellor with prizes going to the winners.

A "nosebag" lunch and good-night circle closed the evening.

Ellwood High Meets Midland Saturday

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 18.—On the eve of Ellwood City high school football team's most difficult game of the season with Midland tomorrow afternoon at the Crucible's field, the Ellwood City skipper, Thurman F. "Dutch" Croft, for the first time this season is confident. The game begins at 3 oclock.

Some of his optimism is based on the fact that Midland, with five victories and no losses to their credit, had a most difficult time in checking Monaca high 7 to 0, while Ellwood City last Saturday outplayed the Monacans to gain a 13 to 7 victory.

Croft is confident that the Ellwood gallants will win if they can succeed in checking the Alston brothers, two of the finest halfbacks ever produced in the Beaver Valley section. All this week, he has tried to impress on the locals that if either one of these equally strong players get past the secondary that they will undoubtedly score. They are exceptionally fast, hard driving players and so far this year it has taken from two to four tacklers to stop them.

In 1938, the Alstons defeated Ellwood and kept the locals from an otherwise undefeated season. Last year, Ellwood downed the Steelers and this year both teams will be very much in the race. If Ellwood would stop Midland, they would again be in the race with Ambridge for the Beaver Valley championship.

Everything isn't rosy on the Ellwood horizon, however, because the four first string players that were out last Saturday, are still on the ailing list and following his usual custom, Croft will not use them, however, much they are needed, if they are not completely physically fit. Lordo, fullback, and Dudick, right tackle, have been out to practice only once this week, still recuperating from an attack of grip. Seetch is slowly improving. Most discouraging of all is the fact that Paul Cartwright, one of the best backfield men ever produced by Ellwood, will definitely be out for the rest of the season. After playing the first game, he injured his ankle and it is still giving him much trouble. It is a great disapopintment to Ellwood fans who exected exceptional things from the husky lad this fall. He has four brothers climbing up the gridiron ladder, two of them, Johnny and Jerry being members of the Junior High team. Jerry has shown much ability and may be groomed for a starting place on next year's varsity team.

The vacancies will be filled as they were last week by Matrangol, fullback; Morrison, quarter; Tammaro, end, and Ross, right tackle. The rest of the Ellwood lineup will remain the same.

Midland has decisive victories over New Brighton, Aliquippa, Beaver, Rochester, lone humbler of Ellwood City, and Monaca.

The Ellwood skipper thought the Blue and White showed much improvement last week, especially in blocking. "The hardest fighting team he's ever seen in Ellwood" were the words used by the local mentor to describe this years gridiron edition and he thinks this will be a great contributing factor in tomorrow's contest.

Ellwood's band will accompany the team tomorrow.

Organize Lions Club In Ellwood

Officers Are Elected At Meeting Held On Thursday Evening

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 18.—Under the sponsorship of the New Castle Lions club, a group of 25 business and professional men of Ellwood City gathered last night for a dinner meeting at the Elks club to complete the organization of an Ellwood City unit. The New Castle delegation was headed by their president, James F. Leslie. Numa F. Vidal, Jr., zone chairman of this district, acted as chairman with the following officers being elected:

President, Joseph J. Eckert; secretary-teasurer, Joseph H. Latiano; first vice president, Joseph Wilkofsky; second vice president, Carl E. Martin; third vice president, Dr. William I. McKim; directors, Dr. Aaron Caplan, J. V. McKelvey, Melwood Guy and Floyd Scheidemantle; lion tamer, F. J. Newman, and tail twister S. E. West.

Hallowe'en Plans Are Progressing

Street Dance Is To Be Arranged To Follow Large Parade Of Mummers

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 18.—The hallowe'en celebration in Ellwood City this year calls for an evening of hilarious clean fun without a thought of property damage, chairman Mike Edelman stated today.

Officials of the Borough and Merchants Division of the Chamber of Commerce will line up the largest mummer parade that has ever paraded the city streets. Bands and Bugle Corps will be interspersed throughout the line of march. Over 125 prizes will be given out by the merchants for costumes representing the most original, most unique, most Hallowe'en spirit, most timely, most comic, most weird, group prizes and horseback riding group.

The parade will again form at the Circle School at 7 o'clock and at 7:30 start to wend its way through the city streets.

Borough Council is expected to cooperate in the celebration by furnishing an orchestra and roping off a section of Lawrence avenue for the street dance which will take place from 8:30 to 11 p. m.

Prizes will also be offered by the merchants for the best couples in the jitterbug, waltzers and Foxtrots.

Ellwood Junior Hi Ties Beaver Falls

Both Teams Score Early In First Half In Game Played Here Thursday

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 18.—After an excellent season, the Ellwood City Junior High football team fell from the top-notch ranks on Thursday afternoon when they emerged from a fray at Lincoln field with Beaver Falls Junior High with a 6-6 tie.

Beaver Falls scored in the first quarter on a 37-yard end run by W. Omograsso after a march of 80 yards. Ellwood's touchdown followed in the second quarter and resulted from a beautiful 43-yard pass from Hnzenic to Paswell. W Omograsso's dropkick and Conti's plunge for the extra points both failed.

Although unable to score but once, likeable Harold Burry's Ellwood Juniors made nine first downs to three gained by the visitors.

The lineup:

Ellwood 6		Beaver Falls 6
Herge	L E	Thellman
Brown	L T	Reed

Hitch-Hiker Being Hunted

Find Body Of Lumberman With Seven Bullet Wounds, Money And Auto Missing

(International News Service)

TOWANDA, Pa., Oct. 18—State motor police on the trail of the killer who sent seven bullets through the body of Edward Lee, 60 year old lumberman, of Forksville, Sullivan county, today were seeking a brown suited hitch-hiker with a wounded foot.

Police declined to give the name of the suspect pending further development.

It was learned that Monday night a youth, believed to have been the suspect, appeared at the office of Dr. M. E. Hydock, at nearby Sonestown and asked for treatment of bullet wounds in a foot.

State police sergeant R. M. Stroh said the shots were probably fired in the scuffle that took place in Lee's car on Route 87 between Dushore and Forksville.

Struck Seven Times

An autopsy revealed Lee had been struck by seven bullets, only one of which was fatal. The fatal bullet, according to County Coroner Joseph F. Dreir, went through the victim's chest, crushed the liver and ruptured the diaphragm. No inquest is planned.

Missing since Monday, Lee's bullet-riddled body was discovered by a searching party yesterday, stuffed beneath a seldom used bridge on a lonely road in a forest near his home. He was shot at least five times.

State police, pressing the search for the slain man's automobile and for the $200 he was reported to have carried with him the day he was murdered, declined comment other than they were looking for the hitch-hiker Lee was known to have picked up soon after he left his home Monday for Towanda, 30 miles away.

State Police Sergeant R. M. Stroh disclosed the finding of blood-stained political posters on the road indicating, he said, the slayer had wiped out the car and driven away after disposing of Lee's body.

Man And Woman Stabbed To Death

Discovery Made In Philadelphia Home During Early Morning

(International News Service)

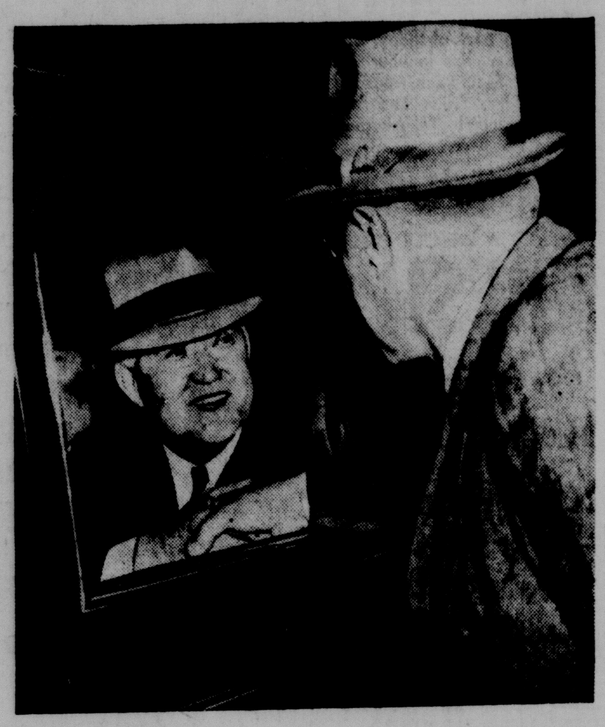

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 18—Michael Fantini, 34, widowed father of four children and Mrs. Mary Paolino 32 year old wife of a Philadelphia barber, were found stabbed to death today in the Fantini residence in South Philadelphia.

For several hours the body of the woman, who lived a quarter mile from Fantini's home, lay unidentified at the city morgue. Shortly after the identification was made, Detective Sergeant Samuel Riccardi took into custody the woman's husband Thomas. No charges were placed against him, but he was detained for questioning.

Discovery of the bodies was made by Fantini's 11 year old daughter, Rita, when she awoke about 7 o'clock and went downstairs. The woman was lying lifeless in the hall way of the modest home. The girl's father was dead in a middle room on the first floor.

Two Auto Drivers Facing Hearings

State Motor police today stated that two arrests resulted from automobile accidents in Lawrence county yesterday, one crash having occurred on the New Wilmington-New Bedford road and another in Lawn View, Neshannock township.

According to the police, Lester Burdette, New Wilmington, R. D. 2, driving a truck executed a left turn in front of an auto operated by Georgiana Davidson, New Wilmington yesterday. Burdette was charged before Squire Funk, with reckless driving of a motor vehicle, police stated.

Luther Wine, Lawn View, reportedly backed his car from a driveway into an auto driven by Mrs. Carl Fobes, also Lawn View, Neshannock township yesterday afternoon. Wine was charged before Squire Tanner with driving without an operator's license and failure to yield the right of way, the police reported.

Both persons assertedly arrested will receive hearings at a future date.

Dewey And LaGuardia Speak In Pittsburgh

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 18.—To give the "true facts to the people," President Roosevelt has decided to take an active hand in the waning minutes of the present presidential campaign, it was indicated today as Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia and District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey of New York rallied voters in opposite camps here.

Discloses Message

The President's last minute decision to personally press his campaign was disclosed by Mayor LaGuardia as the climax to an address before an overflow audience of 6,000. A message from the chief executive read:

"There has been so much deliberate misrepresetation in this campaign that I am determined to correct these misstatements and give the true facts to the people."

The New York mayor read the telegram after characterizing the Republican nominee, Wendell Willkie, a 'reckess, irresponsible person.' He added:

"What the American people are now asked to vote for is the most synthetic buildup ever staged. A buildup so carefully staged that the utility politicos knew it could not survive any length of time, which explains their carefuly laid plans not to expose this synthetic buildup to any primary contest."

Dewey Scores New Deal

Dewey, to the cheers of an enthusiastic audience of 10,000 scored the New Deal for its "lack of foresight and blunders" which he blamed for the "tragic failure to rearm this country."

He said that it was "desperately dangerous" not to elect Willkie. He further claimed that the President's budget bureau had ignored the army's and the navy's pleas for more money to build defense materials, paraphrasing as the New Deal's slogan:

"Billions for boon-doggling, but not one cent for defense."

Former Gov. Gifford Pinchot, Independent Republican, who has declared his suport for President Roosevelt, shared the platform with LaGuardia and asserted that his decision to help Mr. Roosevelt was motivated by the international situation and a desire to keep someone in the White House who "knew what it was all about."

The nation's lack of industrial facilities to fulfill defense contracts was laid by Dewey to the New Deal philosophy expressed by President Roosevelt in a speech in San Francisco in 1932. In that speech, he quoted Mr. Roosevelt as stating the country's industrial plant has already been built and that the question now was whether it was not 'over-built."

'That philosophy is the cornerstone of the New Deal,' Dewey said. "That philosophy we Republicans reject."

The President's recent military inspection trips, Dewey asserted, are merely for the purpose of acquiring suitable background for newsreel shots.

Girl Reserves Help To Prepare Christmas Seals

Seals And Campaign Material Received At Tuberculosis Society Office

Lawrence county's allotment of Christmas Seals and campaign material was received Wednesday at the Tuberculosis Society office in the Lawrence Savings and Trust Company building.

Wednesday afternoon, a group of Girl Reserves reported to the office and folded seals and prepared 2,000 letters for the mail. This work is going on now in order that all of the seals will be ready to mail on the opening day of the campaign next month.

The coming Christmas Seal sale will be the 34th in which voluntary workers have co-operated with state and local tuberculosis associations to raise funds through the distribution and sale of the seals, to carry on the campaign against tuberculosis.

These girls who helped prepare the seals Wednesday were: Mary Jane McGinty, Kathryn Wilcox, Dorothy Devlin, Frances Reed, Eleanor Schmidt, June Aubel, Delores O'Leary, Eleanor Eckles, Jean Cameron, Molly Culliford and Cecelia Capitola

Germany Claims British Warship Hit By Torpedo

(International News Service)

BERLIN, Oct. 18—One British warship was torpedoed at the entrance to the Bristol channel during a naval engagement between German destroyers, and a British cruiser squadron, the German high command reported today.

Despite their numerical superiority, the British warships broke off the battle and fled after one of their number had been hit, a communique claimed.

"Planes were despatched in pursuit of the retreating enemy while German destroyers returned undamaged to their bases," the communique said.

Other naval activity in the vicinity of the British Isles resulted in the sinking of one British submarine off the French port of Le Havre, the shelling of ships in the harbor of Dover, and the sinking of 75,000 tons of British merchant shipping by submarine and torpedo-boat action.

First Aid Class Being Conducted

Mrs. Plummer Gibson, assister by Mrs. Sara Cramer, are conducting a first aid class for the young women at the N. Y. A. center on Atlantic avenue.

Both Mrs. Gibson and Mrs. Cramer have recently completed the instructors course given the chapter by the national representative, Dr Albert H. Sharpe. The class has enrolled 23 young women who will, upon the completion of the thirty hours be given certificates for the standard first aid course.

British Battleship Heavily Damaged, Is Reported At Gibraltar

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—A German radio broadcast picked up today by NBC in New York stated that the British battleship Barham was brought into drydock at Gibraltar, apparently suffering heavy damage, according to a report from Algeciras.

The Barham, launched in 1914, is the fourth ship of the Queen Elizabeth class, displaces 35,100 tons fully loaded and carries a complement of about 1,184 men.

(Editor's Note: In London British officials refused any comment on the German broadcast beyond remarking that it was 'obviously a German feeler" for information.)

SENT TO CANAL ZONE

Mr. and Mrs. John LaRue and children Jack and Caroline, formerly of this city, recently moved to Washington, D. C., to take up residence, where Mr. LaRue held a responsible governmental position.

The LaRue family had resided there but a short time when Mr. LaRue was again transferred, to the Balboa Canal Zone, and is now at Cristobal Canal Zone, where he is superintending work for the government. Mrs. LaRue plans to sail on November 14 to join her husband. Jack has entered for active service in the reserves at Quantico, Va., while Caroline is in training as a nurse in Washington, D. C.

Sportsman's Council To Meet Tonight

There will be a regular monthly meeting of the Lawrence County Sportsman's Council tonight at the new jointly owned clubhouse of the Ellwood City and Wampum Rod and Gun club.

The starting time of the meeting is 8 o'clock, according to Secretary Vic Connerly.

Missionary Will Visit In This City

Word has been received here from Miss Cora Murdock, missionary to Colombia, South America, by Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Collins, 411 Epworth street, to the effect that the missionary will visit the Collins home over the week end. The visit is especially significant due to the fact that Miss Murdock has been working with Rev. and Mrs. Frederick A. Smith, missionaries in Colombia, and daughter and son-in-law of the Collins. Miss Murdock will bring personal greetings from the missionary couple in South America.

During her visit here, arrangements have been made to have the missionary speak at the Gospel Tabernacle, 210 Pearson street, at one of the Sunday services.

Of all the airplanes which went into battle during the World War, there were non which were American-built.

Berlin Reports 1,000 Planes In Recent Attack

Several Hundred Planes In Drive On London Last Night

(International News Service)

BERLIN, Oct. 18.—"Several hundred" German planes carried out successful night attacks on "war-important objectives" in London, an official Berlin announcement said today.

Numerous fires were observed in the British capital, the statement said, and one observation balloon and three barrage balloons were shot down.

It was believed in Berlin that about 350 or 400 planes participated in last night's assaults.

The announcement conceded that four German planes were lost.

According to German authorities the planes that attacked London during the night were attached to three seperate German flying corps. But it was pointed out that this did not mean all the planes of the three corps were engaged in the attack.

Official quarters added that the numerical peak of German planes over London was reached several days ago, when approximately 1,000 machines flew over the city during a 24-hour period.

These circles said that whether the current 24-hour period beginning last night will exceed this number "remains to be seen" and depends partly on weather conditions.

On the other hand, it was reiterated, mass raids on London henceforth will be the British capital's "normal daily bombing ration until the next and bigger stage is reached."

German authorities claimed that the British government eventually will be forced to evacuate London and said that a "normal bombing ration" for the British capital is now about 300 tons every 24 hours, with "occasional time out for reconnoitering."

Ten Art Exhibits For Local College

Westminster Announces Schedule Of Exhibitions During College Year

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Oct. 18—Ten art exhibits have been scheduled for exhibition in the display room of McGill Memorial library this year, under the supervision of Prof. Harold J. Brennan, art department head. Some exhibits will be shown in the commuters' room.

The first exhibit, Sept. 16—Nov. 8 is a group of prints from the Carnegie corporation, New York City, composed of such artists as Rembrandt, Whistler, Goya, Pennell and Meryon.

A group of lithographs by Honore Daumier will be shown Nov. 4-19. The collection is from the University of Minnesota.

Dec. 2-16 a group of etchings by American artists will be shown, portraying the early history of the republic, and episodes from the life of Washington. The etchings are the gift of Dr. H. H. Donaldson, former Board of Trustees president.

"Chaucer and His Age", January 8-20, will depict the story of the Canterbury Tales through portraits of Chaucerian characters, illustrating the manner and customs of 14th century England.

"The Making of a Contemporary Film" will be shown January 6-27, illustrating step by step, the necessary steps in the making of a modern movie. The exhibition, illustrating "The Adventures of Tom Sawyer" will illustrate the original script, talent-hunt reports, research material, costoming, make-up charts, and reports from the first private showing, called the "sneak review".

Other exhibits include "Athletics and Festivals of Greece", "Functions of the Camera", "The Godey Prints", Picasso's "La Coiffur"; the second annual Western Pennsylvania Print Show organized by Westminster college and "Housing".

MISSIONARY MEETING

Ladies of the Christian Missionary Alliance church held their missionary meeting Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Ernest Filer of the Plaingrove road. At noon a delicious dinner was served, and the day was spent quilting patches.

GAURNERI-D'ARCHANGLO

A wedding was solemnized Saturday morning, October 12, in the Beloved Disciple Catholic church, Grove City, uniting in marriage, Mary Gaurneri, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gaurneri, and LaVern D'Archanglo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony D'Archanglo, of Grove City.

In the presence of a host of friends, vows were exchanged at 8 o'clock, with Rev. Andrew Juirk, officiating and using the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Chester Schliet contributed organ music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a white brocaded damask gown, made entrain.

Rose Gaurneri was maid of honor, and wore a peach taffeta gown and carried peach roses. Quito Criscari was best man. Edna Dewanny was bridesmaid and Peter Johns was usher. A wedding dinner was served in the bride's home, and a reception was held in the evening. Later the couple departed on a wedding trip to Washington, D. C. They will reside at Grove City. The bride is a graduate of Plaingrove high school in 1938.

SURPRISE PARTY

A number of friends and neighbors gathered in the home of Mrs. Ted Ferry, honoring her with a surprise party. The evening was spent socially, and later lunch was served. The honoree received many lovely gifts.

NEW CASTLE NEWS

BEND—San Jose State footballers of San Jose, Cal., do this sort of thing to get their muscles in working order.

New Castle Hi At Washington

Depart By Bus From Stadium Early This Afternoon For Class AA Conference Battle

FOUR PLAYERS ARE ON CRIPPLED LIST

The New Castle High "Red Hurricane" football team, 30 in number, and coaches and handlers left by bus from the stadium at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon for Washington, Pa., where tonight at 8 o'clock the locals meet Washington High in a class AA battle.

The locals are seeking their sixth win of the year tonight.. Two class AA games have been won so far and one tied. New Castle is still in the undefeated column.

Face Tough Game

The game tonight will be a severe test and may find New Castle with their hands full. Washington is still smarting under the setback handed them here last year. They will be out for revenge.

With McKee, Roberts, Morgan and Adamo on the crippled list the New Castle team will be somewhat handicapped. Practice this week has been on pass defense. The scouts claim Washington has a fine forward passing attack. New Castle has been brushing up on passes, also, and may keep the Washington ozone well filled.

New Castle's next home game is with Cleveland John Adams here at the stadium on Friday night, October 25.

WILL STAGE SHOOT

The Acco Rifle club will stage a shoot Saturday at their range 1-4 mile south of Coverts Station. All who like to shoot high-powered rifles are invited to the shoot. Prizes will be awarded for various shooting events.

Only two members of the Pitt starting lineup started against Fordham last year. They are Captain Ted Konetsky at left tackle and Rudy Gradisek at left guard. Fordham will field eight who started against Pitt.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Lin Dilks, fireman on the B. and O. raidroad Capitol limited and who, years ago, as a participant in the late "Cash and Carry" Pyle's transcontinental Bunion derby, helped to advertise New Castle on Wednesday at Willard, Ohio, smashed the time of J. Hibbard, London, Eng., by running 50 miles in 7 hours, 48 minutes, which is six minutes less than Hibbard required for the distance. Dilks raced through the three mile course in Willard. The race was sponsored by officials of the B. and O. railroad and the Willard police department. Dilks was flesh and his feet unblistered after running the half hundred miles.

Billy Conn is a five-three favorite to defeat Al McCoy, Boston heavyweight, tonight in a 10-round bout in Boston....

Slippery Rock Teachers defeated Carnegie Tech cross country team on a 4½ mile rain swept course at Slippery Rock yesterday. The Rockets won the first four berths. Best time for the course was 28:57. The finish was as follows: Russell, Ristich, Marshall and Rogers, all of Slippery Rock Teresi and Marcini both of Tech: Lottes and Frew also Rockets.

There will be many outdoor enthusiasts from New Castle and vicinity participate in the various events to be staged Saturday at Ellwood City and Wampum Rod and Gun clubs at Sportsmen's lodge, Ellwood City-Wampum road. H. Parker is chairman of the meet. There will be shooting events, bait and fly casting and bird dog trials.

PANTHERS WIN GAME

The Rose Bowl Panthers defeated the Cobalians 38 to 36 in a six-man football game at Washington High field yesterday. The entire Panther team performed brilliantly. For the losers the work of "Jungle Jim" Bradley and Pete Byers was the best.

Knoxville, Tenn.—Major Bob Neyland, Tennessee haed football coach, wears the same grey hat to all Tennessee football games. He has been wearing this same top-piece for a great many years, and many Vol followers feel that it is a good omen.

All-American Candidates To Meet Saturday

Galaxy Of Stars To Participate In Big Games Saturday Afternoon

COACHES START SLEEPLESS NIGHTS

By LAWTON CARVER
(International News Service Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—There is scarcely a football coach in the land today who isn't weighted down into a weary droop in contemplation of a problem that causes the insomnia graph to shoot upward like a skyrocket at this time of the year. They will toss on their Friday night beds of pain tonight as usual, listening to their hair turning grey and wonder over and over a thousand times whether that opposing back who has been running wild can be stopped.

The chance of injury to key men will make up part of the nightmares, as will the possibility of overconfidence in some cases, fumbling and all the other things that cause the coaches to take on that haunted look as the season progresses. But those things come under the head of the breaks of the game. Stopping that budding all-American is something else.

Stars In Making

All week and perhaps longer the defense has been built up to head him off and pin him down. He and his blockers have been charted, diagnosed, traced back four generations or more, watched by scouts and discussed at such length that he hasn't a secret left. Not a hipsway, feint, side-step or pivot in his baffling repertoire will have been missed. If he is a passer they will have him and his receivers tabbed on that, too.

And the coach behind the team with that all-American, will be doing some wearisome tossing tonight, wondering whether his fellow will be able to get out there tomorrow and really carry that mail, or be stopped by the young men of that other harried coach.

They will really be worrying, and fretting and fuming tonight, and hoping on the one hand that he will be stopped and on the other that he won't be.

Outstanding Players

Outstanding among the gents who are causing all this anxiety on the eve of tomorrow's games are:

Tommy Harmon of Michigan vs. Illinois.

John Kimbrough of Texas A. and M. vs. Texas Christian.

Don Scott of Ohio State vs. Minnesota, and if they stop Scott, Jim Langhurst may get loose, with Minnesota relying on George Franck.

Bob Foxx of Tennessee vs. Alabama.

Paul Christman of Missouri vs. Iowa State.

Hal McCullough and Cornell vs. Syracuse.

Frank Sinkwich of Georgia vs. Columbia and Paul Governali.

George Kracum of Pitt vs. Fordham and Steve Filipowicz.

Herman Rohrig of Nebraska vs. Kansas.

Frank Reagan of Pennsylvania vs. Princeton and Dave Allerdice.

Bill Decorrevont of Northwestern vs. Wisconsin and George Paskvan.

Jim (Sweet) Lalanne of North Carolina vs. North Carolina State.

Alan Donelli of Duquesne vs. Mississippi and Merle Hapes plus Junie Hovious.

Johnny Bosch of Georgia Tech vs. Vanderbilt.

Dean McAdams of Washington vs. Oregon State and Jim Kisselburg.

Bob Robertson of Southern California vs. Oregon.

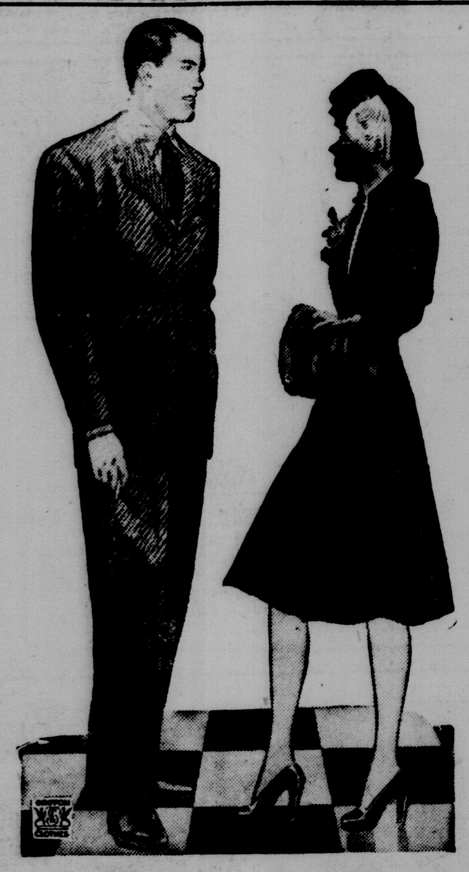

Billy Sewell of Washington State vs. Stanford.

And for a concluding four-ply headache Milt Piepul, Bob Hargrave, Bob Saggau and Steve Juzwik of Notre Dame vs. Carnegie Tech.

YOUNGSTOWN WINS

Youngstown College turned back Morris-Harvey by a 19-0 margin, last night in Youngstown.

Knoxville, Tenn.—Duke Blue Devils were plenty tough on the Tennessee Volunteers this fall despite their setback. The Duke gridders tore 24 of the Volunteers' jerseys to shreds. Three of this number were torn from the back of Bob Fox, Vols' versatile tailback. Never let it be said that you can hold a Vol by his jersey.

Westminster To Meet Bethany Saturday

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Oct. 18 — With expertations of a larger than usual home coming insurge of "Old Grads", Saturday, Westminster college Titan eleven braced itself this week to hold off the rush of Bethany line-drives and passes that have brought them three victories in as many games.

Westminster has a 26-0 victory over Edinboro and two defeats, 47-0 by West Virginia and 44-0 by Youngstown college, while the Bisons have wins over Salem 33-0; W. and J. 14-0; and Glenville, 14-7.

The Bison forward wall, with its two 230-pound tackles, Merrill and Meyers, will outweigh the Blue and White about fifteen pounds to the man. While Bethany will probably rely on driving through the line and around the ends, Westminster will probably be forced to take to the air.

Out of the Titan lineup, probably for the remainder of the season are John Hill, freshman back from Donora, and Fullback Dick Newton of Ellwood City.

In addition to the Westminster-Bethany football encounter, the Bison and Titan harriers will run a cross-country race over the new Titan course.

Shenango Trips Mars High, 13-0

Pitzer And Denny Race 40 And 60 Yards Respectively For Touchdowns

(Special To The News)

MARS, Pa., Oct. 18.—Two pass interceptions netted Shenango Township High a pair of touchdowns and a 13-0 victory over Mars High on Thursday afternoon at Mars.

In the first stanza Shenango marched to Mars' 10, only to be turned back. During hostilities in the second, Bob Denny, Shenango quarterback, leaped in the air, snatched a Mars pass on the mid stripe. Behind scythe-like blocking by Colvert and Stolitca, Denny raced into touchdown land. O'Neil place kicked the extra point.

The second score came shortly after wtih Bob Pitzer intercepting a pass on his 40 and dashing 60 yards for a touchdown. O'Neil failed to annex the extra point. The second half was played in a heavy rain which hampered play considerably. Shenango moved within the shadow of the goal line twice but lacked the telling blow.

Bob Denny's punting again highlighted Shenango's playing. Stolitca, Pitzer and Druschel played outstandingly for the winners.

Next Friday afternoon Shenango bids for the county class B championship, battling Union Township High on Shenango field. The game starts at 2.

The lineups:

Mars		Shenango
Selle	L.E.	Pitzer
L. Wood	L.T.	Colvert
Leslie	L.G.	Sovesky
Piotrowski	C.	Staph
McQueen	R.G.	Semansky
Dudzinski	R.T.	Druschel
A. Held	R.E.	Frengel
Evic	Q.B.	Denny
E. Held	L.H.	Stolitca
Fehl	R.H.	Majeski
C. Wood	F.B.	O'Neil

Score by quarters:

Shenango	0	13	0	0	—13
Mars	0	0	0	0	— 0

Touchdowns—Denny and Pitzer.
Point after touchdown—O'Neil.
Substitutions—Shenango: R. Donley, P. Morgan, Miron, Gloriosa, Morrow, Duncan, Strola, Marks, Brunton, Walters, Overmoyer and Gierling.
First downs—Shenango 8, Mars 4.

Game Posters Are Issued By State

Suggestions For Care In Hunting Are Contained In New Posters

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Oct. 18—Two new posters just distributed by the Pennsylvania Game Commission cover a multitude of suggestions for the careless and thoughtless hunter. One with a slogan "Use your head, but not as a target—wear a red cap" is particularly suggestive of what may happen to the fellow who does not dress properly when in the field. If you do not have a red cap or hat commission officials suggest that you wear a red bandanna handkerchief on your hat or cap. A red bandanna or a piece of red cloth is the cheapest insurance policy you can buy.

The other poster contains the message "Don't maim—kill outright" and carries a definite appeal to the thoughtless hunter who shoots at game when it is out of range, many time crippling it or who doesn't bother trying earnestly to find crippled games after he shoots it.

Robert Leo (Pigeon) Dove, 195-pound 6-foot 2-inch Notre Dame sophomore left end, who has been advanced to the first team, ranks Jim Thorpe as his athletic idol, and O. Henry as his favorite author. Dove is the only sophomore in the Irish starting personnel, although there are several on the second team.

Urbana, Ill.—Five athletes from Granite City high school which won the state basketball championship are freshmen in the school of physical education at the University of Illinois.

Bears Hope To Defeat Canton

Large Number Of Mahoningtown Fans Will Follow Bears To Canton

Judging from the amount of enthusiasm being shown in the daily workouts, the Wabash Bears semi-pro football team of the Seventh Ward will be on edge Sunday when they go to Canton to battle the famous Bulldog eleven in the Ohio city. The kickoff is slated for 2:30 o'clock.

Coaches Harry Tuscano and Albert Adamo are confident that the Bears will be at full strength Sunday and that the Mahoningtown boys will give the Cantons a tough battle. A victory over the Bulldogs would be a big feather in the local caps.

Willie Domenick, president of the Bears organization, announced today that a large following of Seventh Ward fans will go to Canton to witness the game. The Bears in the only encounter played this year defeated the Koppel Buckeyes.

Church League Meeting Tuesday

A Church basketball league meeting has been called by the Y. M. C. A. for Tuesday, October 22 at 7:30 p. m.

Assistant General Secretary Henry T. MacNicholas of the "Y" said the session is for churches represented in the 1939 league and those congregations which plan to enter teams in the 1940 league.

Each representative, MacNicholas emphasized, must bring with him a statement authorized by the head of the church sponsoring his team. Only adult laymen will be admitted, such as a Sunday school superintendent, member of the church board or athletic committee. Managers are not to attend this discussion.

Washington Hi Trims Sharon

Score Is 13 To 6 On Muddy Field At Sharon, Thursday Afternoon, Doster Stars

Bob Doster was the Washington High hero yesterday afternoon on a muddy field at Sharon by scoring two touchdowns to give the North Hillers a 13 to 6 win.

The Washington team chose to receive and in six plays after the kickoff Doster was over for the first touchdown. The try for extra point was blocked. It started to rain at this point and the field soon became a lake. Only straight line-buck plays could be used.

Doster Tallies Again

Late in the second quarter Sharon fumbled on the 47 yard line and Washington High with Altman and Doster doing the most of the ball lugging had their second touchdown with Doster going over the line. The extra-point by Doster this time was good. The second team played the remainder of the half.

Sharon scored late in the final period. Sharon recovered one of their own punts on the Washington 48 yard line and Dugan threw a long pass to Leonetti and he was hauled down on the 2-yard line and took it over on the next play. The extra-point try by Dugan was blocked.

The Washington line looked good with Preston, Clark and Brothers playing a fine defensive and offensive game. In first downs Washington had 15 and Sharon 4.

The summary:

Washington		Sharon
Brothers	L.E.	Valentino
Clark	L.T.	Nesper
Lewis	L.G.	Rusicka
Preston	C.	Burns
Eggleston	R.G.	Dunn
Jamison	R.T.	Kepha
Reed	R.E.	Lysohir
Buckingham	Q.	BeHarry
Doster	L.H.	Boyer
Altman	R.H.	Dugan
DelPrincipe	F.	Leonetti

Score by periods:

Washington	6	7	0	0	—13
Sharon	0	0	0	6	— 6

Touchdowns: Washington, Doster 2.
Extra-points: Dester 1 out of 2 by placement.
Sharon—Leonetti.

Will Probably Play Saturday

RAY FREDERICKS

NEW WILMINGTON, Oct. 18.—Ray Fredericks, Westminster Titan guard, from New Castle, will probably see action Saturday in the Blue and White's homecoming tilt with the Bethany Bisons.

Fredericks reported late for squad practice, but has improved fast, and played a considerable portion of the Slippery Rock and Youngstown games. He is rangy and rugged.

A freshman at Westminster, Fredericks is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Fredericks, New Castle.

Knoxville, Tenn.—According to the American Football Statistical Bureau, the 1939 University of Tennessee football team led the nation in team total performance ratings. The rating gave the Volunteers a total of 1250.7 points.

Two sophomores spark the otherwise veteran Fordham team. They are Jim Lansing, one of the east's great ends, nad Steve Filipowicz, a terrific line plunging and accurate passing fullback.

Warn Hunters Who Carry Guns While Training Canines

Law Prohibiting Carrying Guns While Training Dogs Is Being Enforced

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Oct. 18—Hunters who carry a shotgun or a rifle while training their dogs before the gunning season opens are violating the law and are accordingly subject to fine, game officials warned.

The law prohibiting carrying shotguns and rifles to train dogs has been in effect since 1923, yet judging from the number of fines collected recently and the number of queries which game officials say are being directed to their offices a great many hunters either are ignorant of the law or are feigning ignorance in order to do a little pre-season shooting.

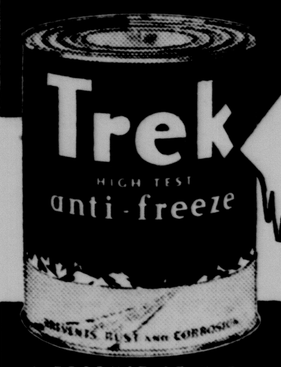

Officials stated that it is not necessary to have a hunting license to train dogs so long as no attempt is made to capture or kill wild birds or wild animals.

Bowling League In College Town

NEW WILMINGTON, Oct. 18—Following the selection of teams last week, the New Wilmington bowling league got under way Monday evening with the Reds, captained by Arthur Minteer, and the Tigers led by Ralph Buchanon, battling for first blood of the season. The Reds took the opening match 2 to 1.

Tuesday evening the Indians, captained by Dr. R. F. Williams, fell to defeat before the Yankees, led by Steve Vincent, by a score of 2 to 1.

SPORTS WORLD RAMBLINGS

Grid forecast:—With the use of a new shiny penny piece and keeping our fingers crossed all the way through, here is how Saturday's pigpelt extravanganza looks from this nook:

Fordham-Pitt: Jim Crowley tags along the best squad he has ever had. Blumenstock, Eshmont and Filipowicz spearhead a club that would give any Sutherland coached eleven a few headaches. Can't see anything but Fordham, 18-7. . . .

Notre Dame-Carnegie Tech—Anything that we might endeavor to tell you about the Irish would be superfluous. The same applies to Tech. Notre Dame too strong for a weak Tech club, 21-0. . . .

Duquesne-Mississippi—There must be an upset some place. With Donelli, Connors and Semes in action, the Dukes to fool everybody, 13-7. . .

Penn State-Lehigh: This one's a cake walk for the Nittany Lions, 33-0. . . .

Cornell-Syracuse: To change the tune, Cornell shadow boxes, 25-0. . .

Duke-Colgate: Andy Kerr will have to muster more power than he has to halt the Durham boys. Duke 18, Colgate 6. . . .

Holy Cross-N. Y. U.: Those Crusaders have shaken off that L. S. U. nightmare and are rolling along, 19-0. . . .

Penn-Princeton: A mighty Penn eleven swaps grid blows with an overrated team. Penn 14, Princeton 0. . . .

Northwestern-Wisconsin: Here's a spot where the Wildcats may nose dive following that Ohio State win. Still DeCorrevont and company, 14-0. . . .

Minnisota-Ohio State: The Buckeyes collide with one of the toughest in the business. State played a strenuous tiff while the Gophers rested for this one. Here's another one George Franck will pull out of the fire for Minnesota, 13-7. . . .

Tennessee-Alabama: Tennessee's tested club meets an unknown quantity. The Bamas can hardly match Bob Suffridge, Ed. Molinski, Max Steiner, "Abe" Shires, Johnny Butler and Bob Foxx. Tennessee 14, Alabama 0. . . .

Iowa-Indiana: Iowa apparently doesn't miss Nile Kinnick too greatly. Bill Green does quite well behind a line driven by Mike Enich and Jim Walker. Indiana can't keep coming up every week. Iowa 19, Indiana 0. . . .

Michigan-Illinois: If the Illini clan thinks it met a rough horde last week, it hasn't seen anything. Running behind scythe-like blockers, Tommy Harmon will pay up for last year's dismal showing. Michigan 19, Illinois 0. . . .

Texas A. & M.-T. C. U.: Here's where Kimbrough starts climbing. Look out Texas Christian, 18-6. . . .

Texas-Arkansas: Dana Bible's boys will pitch their way out of this one, aided by Jack Crain's ell-like dodging. Texas 14, Arkansas 6. . . .

Yale-Dartmouth: There isn't much to pick from here. Seymour gives the yelling Yales an edge the width of a hair, 7-6. . . .

Republicans Hear Dewey's Address At Pittsburgh

Headed by Dr. Arthur B. Foster, chairman for Gifford Pinchot in the 1938 campaign, a small group of Republicans went to Pittsburgh on Thursday night to hear Thomas E. Dewey speak in the Hunt Armory.

Prior to the meeting in the armory, former supporters and associates of Gifford Pinchot met in the "Amen Corner", a Pittsburgh civic club, and there passed a resolution condemning the former governor for his desertion of the Republican candidate and his adherence to the New Deal. In the group were representatives from 26 western Pennsylvania counties.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL

The world today is in a turmoil . . . and we are all very much concerned about what is happening in Europe . . . but we have a far more greater interest to watch right here within the boundaries of the United States . . . We as American citizens can't sit back and just watch . . . we must act and act rightly. When it comes to the place where a government can dictate what we should hear on the radio, read in the newspapers . . . what persons can listen to a concert band . . . then we say, there is something very much wrong with us to let such a thing happen. This is the only place in the world where a person can speak his mind and not be shot for doing so . . . our United States was built on a great ideal . . . Freedom of speech, religion and a government run of the people, by the people and for the people. Under this system we have raised the life-span of man . . . we have built great educational and religious institutions . . . we have recognized the rights of all peoples regardless of color, race or creed . . . there has been no class distinction . . . every child born has had the right to think that some day he might be President of our great country . . . we have enjoyed good times . . . we have enjoyed as a country good working conditions, good pay and the finest luxuries that man has ever obtained . . . are we going to sit by and let this all be taken from us . . . are we going to lose sight of these ideals. . . . I don't think we are.

* * *

It's nice to be able to live in a community such as we have here in New Castle . . . where we can every once in a while forget for a few moments the outside world. We have here the address of a home that has a dog to give away . . . it is not a big dog and it's not a small dog . . . just sort of inbetween . . . a female and very nice. You may have same by promising to give it a good home and calling 4648-W and the house can be found at 740 Butler avenue.

* * *

When Rus Morgan was in town a New Castle boy got a break . . . he had the chance to play drums with the outfit . . . this chap's name is Anthony Morelli and from what we hear . . . he can really turn on the heat.

* * *

The Croton Avenue resurfacing job seems to be quite a feat . . . they are really doing the job up right . . . it should be completed within a few days . . . and then will come winter . . . with all paving jobs laid aside until next year.

Stock Market Turns Irregular

Trading Turns Quiet After First Hour Turnover Of 160,000 Shares

By LESLIE GOULD
(International News Service Financial Writer)

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—The stock market turned irregular today after the improvement of the last few days.

Chrysler was a firm spot in the auto section from the start but General Motors slipped.

C. & O. and Pennsylvania were higher in the rails. The others were irregular.

Standard of N. J. was weak in a lower market for oil shares. Utilities were steady to slightly lower. Some of the chemicals were down.

Eastman Kodak was a point higher in the blue chips. Mail orders were higher. Goodrich and American Locomotive moved up fractions.

First hour turnover was moderately active at 160,000 shares but trading turned very quiet later.

LOOKS LIKE DAY, BUT IT'S NIGHT

—Central Press Phonephoto

Using a new billion-candlepower photo bomb synchronized with his aerial camera, a United States army air corps photographer took this air view of Rochester, N. Y. It is expected the new light will be especially valuable in detecting enemy troop movements under cover of darkness.

Safe From Battle of Britain

Refugees from the Battle of Britain, these evacuees are shown as they arrived in New York aboard the Northern Prince. At left, are Carol and Margaret Van den Broek, 14 and 13 respectively, who on their first attempt to reach the U. S. were aboard the Volendam, torpedoed off Scotland. At right are Mrs. Enid R. Gunning and her son Peter. Her husband is judge advocate general of British army's Scottish command.

After the fine fashion in which the election boards handled the registration of draftees the county commissioners are well pleased. Rather inclined to boast about the local boards as a matter of fact.

One thing that stood out in the registration was the way in which the men who had to register came in. Apparently it was a job they wanted to get over quickly and the early morning registrations were heavy on Wednesday.

Two of the early registrants at the court house precinct were two young Chinese, Lin Hung Hop and Yee Chuck Horn. They got in early answered the questions quickly, and got out.

Miss Stella Toman of the clerical force of the county treasurer, is in the New Castle hospital, where she was operated upon several days ago for appendicitis.

Several verdicts were received on Thursday. In the amicable ejectment suit brought by George S. McCurdy and Ida McCurdy against Joseph H. Forney, the jury returned a verdict for the defendant.

The damage suit of Anna L. Boughter and S. L. Boughter against the New Castle Dry Goods company was non-suited, which throws it out of court.

In the case of Joe Levine against Jacob Levine, now Meyer Levine, administrator of the estate of Jacob Levine, the court directed a verdict for the plaintiff in the amount of $20,014. This was a case in which the plaintiff sought to re-open a judgment he had against the deceased.

Two small young ladies, about 11 years each, filled with a curiosity to see the court house stopped a chap on the porch the other afternoon and asked if they were allowed to go inside. He replied that it was their court house and invited them in to take a look at the various offices.

They showed a casual interest in most of the offices, a little reluctance to stay long near the sheriff's office but the prothonotary and clerk of courts office fascinated them. This is where marriage licenses are procured and they were shown the dockets.

When men wore wigs, those of the same profession or trade had their wigs cut in the same pattern. You could, therefore, identify a man as a bishop, a soldier, a coachman, etc.

Wampum Concern Granted Permit For Transportation

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 18—The Interstate Commerce Commission has approved the application of the Wampum Hardware Company of Wampum for permission to transport blasting supplies between Moravia and New Castle, over Pennsylvania Highway No. 18, with no service at intermediate points.

The Wampum establishment is operated by F. M. Davis, E. J. Davis, and Lynn P. Davis as co-partners. The company since 1929 has had authority to transport explosives between Moravia and designated points in Ohio, Pennsylvania, and West Virginia. The application just approved by the ICC extends this authority to include New Castle.
